LEW AYRES HOME BURNS

This is all that remains of the $50,000 home near Malibu Beach, Calif., owned by actor Lew Ayres after an explosive brush fire roared through it. Included in his loss were valuable paintings, a library of historic and religious volumes, and a meteorological station he had built.

MALIBU BRUSH BLAZE SLOWED

29 Charred California Homes Mark Wake Of Rapid Fire

Malibu Beach, Calif. (AP)—Firemen Wednesday claimed 50% control of a brush fire that overran with explosive swiftness miles of home and ranch-dotted hills behind this resort area.

But, with winds expected to continue, they declined to predict when complete control is likely.

Some 30 hours after it started, the big blaze had blackened about 18,000 acres of brush, destroyed an estimated 29 homes and routed hundreds of families. About 1,750 men were fighting it along a 37-mile perimeter. A thousand of them were soldiers, sailors and Marines from southern California bases.

Much of the fire was burning over the same ground covered by a huge blaze that charred 42,000 acres and ruined 99 homes two years ago.

Wind velocities dropped Wednesday to between 15 and 30 m.p.h enabling firemen to control 50% of the perimeter of the huge blaze.

Continued winds in the 25 m.p.h range were forecast, with continued low humidity. Temperatures in the area Wednesday were in the high 80s.

Arson Suspected

The fire broke out Tuesday —arson is suspected— and lashed by hot desert winds up to 60 m.p.h. raced quickly from the inland slopes of the Santa Monica mountains to the sea.

It cut a swath of ruin roughly 5 miles long and 8 miles wide, charring ranchlands and roaring down a half a dozen canyons lined with homes.

Wednesday morning flames reached brush only a quarter-mile from the famed Malibu film colony, a strip of seaside homes where film figures dwell. But a massed array of firemen and pumper trucks checked the blaze at the coast highway before it could do damage.

Hot Spots

Two hot spots occupied their attention: Malibu Canyon, back of the film colony, and Zuma Canyon, 8 miles west. Both are heavily populated.

Shortly after noon tongues of flame licked at the 2½ million dollar Potter Pacific Co. Laboratory in Malibu Canyon. The entire hill on which it stood was aflame, but the glass and concrete structure did not itself catch fire. It does research in the missile field.

LINCOLN ACCEPTED

Lincoln was officially accepted into the Three-I Baseball League Wednesday night along with 3 other former members of the Western League.

Lincoln is joined by Topeka, Des Moines and Sioux City as new members of the league.

Las Vegas Gambler, Wife Slain

. . . Greenbaums Dead

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP) — A big-time Las Vegas gambler-hotel owner and his wife were found murdered Wednesday, their throats slashed with a carving knife.

The body of Gus Greenbaum, 65, once known as the kingpin of bookmakers in Phoenix, was discovered sprawled across a bed in the rambling ranch home. In a nearby den, her hands tied behind her and her head almost severed, lay his wife, Bess, 64.

Detective Capt. Orme Moorehead said the bodies were found by a maid and that the murders apparently occurred early Tuesday night. Nothing had been stolen from the house and no motive was immediately known, police said.

Knife Found

The blood-stained carving knife was found at Mrs. Greenbaum's feet. A sheet of plastic, blood spattered, lay nearby. Police believe it was used to keep fingerprints off the knife handle.

Greenbaum, once owner of the famed Flamingo Hotel, lived here and commuted regularly to Las Vegas. Police cracked down on his bookmaking racket here in 1948 and soon after he acquired the Flamingo.

Greenbaum was president and a major owner of the 11-story Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas. He also had interests in the Nevada City's El Cortez Hotel and Las Vegas Club.

He sold the Flamingo in 1954 for a reported 9 million dollars. He had been described as an associate of Bugsy Siegel, West Coast underworld leader who built the Flamingo. Siegel was mowed down by gangland bullets in 1947.

World Is 'Tired Of War'

15-Minute Appeal Made Direct To People

By Harold K. Milks

Moscow (AP)—U.S. Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) appealed to the Soviet people Wednesday night in an adress on Moscow TV to join the United States in seeking a lasting and just peace.

His 15-minute speech was translated into Russian on the broadcast.

Sen. Humphrey

The senator was the first American official to appear on television here since Ambassador Llewelyn Thompson spoke on the eve of July 4.

Humphrey told the audience:

"We want to know you and we want you to know us and visit us. We must learn to live together.

"The people of the world are tired of thinking of war, tired of misery.

Anxious To Co-operate

"Our people and our government, too, are tired of war. I know our President Eisenhower, who fought with your people in the last war, is anxious to co-operate with you in the only war we want—war against disease, poverty, ignorance, misery and fear."

Concluding a week-long stay in the Soviet capital, Humphrey appeared on TV at the invitation of Moscow TV officials. The senator met with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for 8 hours Monday.

On TV Humphrey asked the Soviet Union to co-operate with the United States to "give meaning and dignity to life by assuring spiritual and physical well being of people everywhere."

Peace With Justice

"I can tell you that the United States and the American people are dedicated to peace — peace with justice," he said.

He recalled sufferings of the people of both the Soviet Union and the United States in World War II and urged the peoples of the two nations to co-operate "because there is no question in this world which cannot be solved in peace."

Soviet figures show there are a half million TV receiving sets in the capital, a city of about 5 million.

Winter To Sink Teeth Into State

Weather Bureau forecasters predict a sharp drop in temperature over the state Thursday, bringing to a halt the unseasonably mild weather of the past several days.

Considerable cloudiness is on tap for Thursday and Thursday night, with temperatures expected to range from 35 to 45.

Occasional snow and strong northerly winds are expected to chill the west and south-central portions of the state.

Imperial and Chadron scored the state temperature highs Wednesday with 68. North Platte recorded the low of 26. Lincoln had a high of 56 and a low of 36.

Police early Thursday were investigating what appeared to be a burglary at the Western Auto Store at 16th and O.

Oldest Practicing Veterinarian

Veterinarian, 81, On 24-Hour Call

By Bill Anderson

At 81, Dr. V. H. Baxter of Kearney, said to be Nebraska's oldest practicing veterinarian, still can't take it easy.

While many men retire long before they reach their 80s, "Doc" Baxter, as he is known by his friends in the Kearney area, still places himself on 24-hour call and rarely turns down a request.

Why does he still maintain such a vigorous practice?

"It isn't the money," he says. "I just can't bring myself to turn down anyone who has suffering animals."

Loves Animals

This love for animals brings "Doc" out on an average of 8 or 9 calls a day.

Even on Thanksgiving Day, when he was sitting down to a well-stocked holiday table, his customers needed him. He made 3 calls.

"A veterinarian must go when people call him. Animals need a lot of attention," he said.

Began In 1905

After graduating from a school of veterinary medicine in 1905, "Doc" set up a practice in Alma, Neb. He stayed there for 24 years. He came to Kearney in 1928.

Although animals and their many sicknesses have changed little since "Doc" began his practice in 1905, methods of treating disease have been revolutionized, he says.

"Doc" thinks recent antibiotic and sulfa drugs now used for treatment of many diseases has been the most significant change he has noticed during his half-century of practice.

Rode Motorcycle

In 1910, when many veterinarians still made their rounds on horseback or by horse-drawn carriage, "Doc" zipped to his customers via one of the newer modes of transportation—a motorcycle.

His first car was a 2-cylinder Maxwell with no windshield. Since then, he has owned 40 automobiles, including 24 new cars since 1941. He says he likes the newer models much better than his old Maxwell.

"Doc's" advice to begining veterinarians is "you shouldn't enter the field with a big air, because it takes a long time to really learn."

At Convention

"Doc" is in Lincoln attending the 62nd annual convention of the Nebraska Veterinary Medical Assn.

The 3-day meet opened Wednesday with over 60 veterinarians and their wives registering. More than 200 are expected to be on hand for the Thursday session.

Committee reports highlighted the first day's agenda.

A banquet is slated for Thursday night with Dr. A. H. Quinn of Kansas City as toastmaster.

Army To Keep Scientist Team

Wins Ike OK To Hold Missile Agency; To Lose Jet Lab

Washington (AP)—The Army Wednesday won President Eisenhower's approval to keep the ballistic missile agency at Huntsville, Ala., with its brilliant team of space age scientists.

But, as a compromise, Eisenhower ordered the Army to turn over to the new civilian space agency the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Pasadena, Calif. The civilian agency, set up this fall, had bid for the major part of both installations in the face of stiff Army opposition.

Eisenhower said the two federal agencies had worked out an agreement under which the space agency will "use the unique capabilities" at Huntsville on a fully cooperative basis.

In turn, the Army will continue for the next year a program of weapons development the Pasadena laboratory has been conducting under Army contracts — principally the Sergeant bombardment missile.

Notified

The Army also will keep control of equipment at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory which deals primarily with military operations and weapons development.

In a statement announcing his executive order, Eisenhower said he was gratified that the space agency and the Defense Department had reached agreement.

"This decision is necessary in the national interest," Eisenhower said. "It prevents unnecessary duplication and effects economies in space research and development.

"This development will enhance close cooperation between the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Department of Defense to the end that the peaceful use of space will rebound to the benefit of mankind."

In turning over the Pasadena laboratory to the space agency, Eisenhower ordered the Defense Department to transfer $4,078,250 from its appropriations to NASA to carry out jet propulsion laboratory projects.

Eisenhower directed the space agency to give all the assistance it can in view of its own responsibilities to help with military matters at the Pasadena laboratory.

In October, when word leaked that the space agency was trying to take over the bulk of the Army's missile facilities, there were loud protests from Army officials and from many of the scientists involved.

Funds For Vote Contest 'Loaned' By State GOP

. . . $20,000 To Be Repaid By Time Decision Is Made

By Don Walton

Funds for the $20,000 certified check posted to cover possible cost of 2 statewide contested elections came from Nebraska Republican Party coffers, all of which is to be repaid, it was learned Wednesday.

The money was provided to contestor Joseph Wishart of Lincoln and his contesting committee as a loan, a highly-placed GOP spokesman said.

It is to be repaid in full by the time the money is to be forfeited if results are not changed in the contested gubernatorial and treasurer races.

Meanwhile, Wishart and his committee will collect individual contributions pledged by telephone and conversation to help pay the cost if the elections were challenged.

All sources remained silent on who has pledged money, except to say "numerous persons in all parts of the state are involved."

Financial aid for the contest was requested from the Republican National Committee, it was learned, but no answer was received.

Meanwhile, Wishart, treasurer of the state party who is contesting as an independent elector, said committees would be formed in Lincoln, Omaha and outstate to aid with the contest.

The Lincoln committee, he said, thus far consists of Attorneys Chauncey Barney and Robert Nelson.

Three Attorneys To Represent Demos

Ginsburg, Votava, Deutsch Named

Nebraska Democrats Wednesday named 3 attorneys to represent Ralph Brooks and Richard Larsen at election contest hearings Friday at which Republican representatives are expected to ask a continuance.

Lincolnite Joseph M. Ginsburg, Joseph T. Votava of Omaha, former U.S. district attorney, and Fred M. Deutsch of Norfolk will represent the 2 Democratic candidates, whose November victories are being contested.

Meanwhile, Republican contestors and Democrats mapped strategy for the play-it-for-keeps hearings which open Friday.

Adjournment Seen

Indications are that attorney Robert Nelson of Lincoln, who will represent contestor Joseph Wishart of Lincoln at the hearings, will ask adjournment to a fixed date after both involved parties outline procedure to be followed.

Nelson said "This is a definite possibility."

He said he thus far planned to present no witnesses on Friday, noting that subpoenas for their appearance must be issued by Chauncey Barney of Lincoln and Robert Conrad of Genoa, who will take depositions for the contestor and contestee respectively.

Nelson declined to say from what counties the contestors planned to call witnesses.

Conrad told The Star that "in view of the time element involved (hearings must be completed by Dec. 29), continuance of the matter would not be exactly received with enthusiasm."

As to procedure, Conrad (who is executive secretary of the Democratic Party) said, "We will follow the ground rules prescribed by law."

Conrad likened his position in the hearings to that of Barney "except that I will represent a majority of the Nebraska voters."

10-Day Estimate

Probable length of the hearings remains uncertain, though Barney has set aside 10 days on his calendar as a guess-timate.

Selection of the 3 Democratic lawyers was made in Omaha Wednesday at a high-level party confab which included Russell Hanson of Newcastle, state chairman; Bernard Boyle of Omaha, national committeeman; Governor-elect Ralph Brooks of McCook, Conrad and Votava. Ginsburg conferred by phone.

Democratic attorney John R. Doyle of Lincoln has been in contact with both Nelson and Barney here.

'Any Witness Necessary'

Conrad said Democratic attorneys "are prepared to present any witnesses necessary to refute any testimony supporting a recount."

He said he was in substantial agreement with Nelson that the purpose of taking depositions in the contest would be to determine if there is probable cause to believe that errors were made in voting tabulation sufficient to change the results.

Hanson said none of 12 alleged irregularities cited by the contestors in the defeats of Gov. Victor Anderson and GOP treasurer nominee J. Monroe Bixler have any bearing on the races under contest and that any indicated adjustments were made by county clerks prior to submission of their vote abstracts to the secretary of state.

Meanwhile, debate erupted over whether the Legislature, which by law "hears and determines" contested elections, could refuse to hear the contest if hearings do not prove the possibility of error large enough to overturn the result.

Argument over whether the law makes acceptance of the contest by the Legislature mandatory or discretionary may result, though most legal authorities appear to lean to the former opinion.

10 Saved In Crash Of Copter

. . . In Potomac

Washington (AP) — A large Navy helicopter with 10 men aboard crashed into the fog-blanketed Potomac River near here Wednesday night. All aboard were rescued from the chill waters 4 hours later.

District of Columbia Harbor Patrol boats picked up 9 of the men, the 10th was rescued by a Coast Guard cutter.

The 10 were taken to a hospital, but none was believed to be seriously injured.

A Defense Department spokesman said those aboard included 4 civilians and 4 crewmen. Identity of the other two was not immediately known.

Patuxent

The craft was en route from its home base at the Patuxent, Md., Naval Air Station to the Anacostia Naval Air Station here. It was attached to the service test division of the Naval Air Test Center at Patuxent.

One of the rescued, Marine M-Sgt. Paul C. Mayer, the ship's co-pilot, said none of those aboard had any idea why the helicopter went down.

"We had permission to land at Anacostia (Naval Air Station)," Mayer said, "it was 6:20 p.m., (EST) and we were making a normal let-down when we just went into the water," Mayer said.

The Anacostia Naval Station is only a short distance from where the helicopter entered the water. Mayer said he was in the water for 4 hours before being rescued.

—5-TON MOON CONSIDERED—

Big Satellites Will Be Fired

. . . From AF Base In California

Washington (UPI)—The government Wednesday announced a far-reaching satellite launching program that may include a 5-ton artificial moon—far bigger than any shot off by Russia so far.

The ambitious undertaking, dubbed "Project Discoverer," also calls for the launching of satellites carrying monkeys and mice as a giant step toward eventually shooting a man into orbit and returning him to earth.

The program was announced by Roy W. Johnson, director of the Defense Department's space agency. It will get under way at Vandenberg Air Force Base near Lampoc, Calif., in about 30 days. Further launchings will follow throughout the coming year at the rate of about one a month.

Upper Stage Rocket

Johnson said the Atlas intercontinental missile, plus a "high energy" upper stage rocket now under development, would enable the United States to launch a 5-ton payload.

Russia's Sputnik III satellite weighed 3,000 pounds. The heaviest U.S. satellite to date totaled about 38 pounds.

The first attempted launching will be made at the California base late this month or early next. The Air Force's 1,500-mile Thor intermediate range missile will be used to hurl a 1,300-pound satellite into space. This shot apparently will deal with the problem of re-entry into the atmosphere.

Johnson said that for the time being at least all West Coast launchings would be in orbits passing over the South and North Poles. All previous U.S. satellite launchings from Cape Canaveral, Fla., have been on an east-to-west pattern.

Johnson explained that the government did not want to fire rockets eastward from California over heavily-populated areas. A "terrific weight penalty" would be imposed if the rockets were fired westward against the earth's rotation, he said.

Discussing plans to use mice and monkeys as satellite "crews," Johnson said space scientists believed they could bring artificial moons back to earth and land them within 200 miles of a desired point. Such feats, he said, would provide useful information for putting a manned vehicle into orbit.

But Johnson emphasized that no attempt would be made to put a man into orbit during 1959.

RED TALK TOUGHER TO ALLIES

Berlin (AP)—The Russians insisted today that the Western allies have just 6 months to douse the West Berlin powder keg by turning it into unarmed neutral city.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia jeered at Western talk of a top-level parley aimed at reuniting Germany.

The West has tried many times "by hook or crook to convert the internal German problem into an international one, to no avail," Izvestia said. It contended any further such effort is doomed to failure since the aim "belongs in the sphere of pure fantasy."

The newspaper claimed the Western powers wanted to use the Berlin issue "once more to try to dictate their will on the German people."

The Russians oppose the Western plan for reunifying Germany through free elections and want the two German governments to get together themselves on a confederation.

Rep. Weaver Begins Base Hospital Drive

Washington (AP)—Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb) said Wednesday he has started a drive to get funds for a new hospital at Lincoln Air Force Base in the budget for the coming fiscal year.

Weaver, who returned from Nebraska earlier this week after being re-elected, made this project one of the first things on his agenda here.

"I have contacted officials at the White House, Budget Bureau and Air Force on the matter," Weaver said.

The Nebraskan said he had no further information on the project at this time.

The administration budget for the 1960 fiscal year will be presented to Congress after it convenes next month.

Funds for the proposed 100 bed, 2½ million dollar hospital were not included in the administration budget for the current fiscal year.

Aid Request

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—President Eisenhower will ask Congress to appropriate 3½ million dollars in extra financial aid for the U.N. Emergency Force (UNEF) in 1959.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), a member of the U.S. delegation at the U.N., made the announcement in the U.N. Budget Committee. The committee voted a 19 million dollar fund for UNEF expenses in 1959.

Role Of Math Teacher In U.S. Security Growing

By Don Walton

National security's new reliance on scientific achievement increased the important role of the mathematics instructor, a nationally prominent mathematics teacher said Wednesday.

Miss Martha Hildebrandt of Maywood, Ill., member of the Commission on Mathematics for the College Entrance Examination Board and past president of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, was in Lincoln to speak to the Conference on Modern Mathematics held for public secondary teachers.

Miss Hildebrandt noted that "mathematics is basic to all sciences," thus particularly important today when scientific achievement in rocketry and missile development points the way to world leadership.

"Proper use of mathematics is a necessary preliminary to scientific achievement," she said.

Make It Interesting

"We must make mathematics interesting and enthusiastic," Miss Hildebrandt urged. "We must get away from mechanization and get people to think. Mathematics cultivates that ability."

The Commission on Mathematics, of which she is a member, is chiefly interested in securing sufficient mathematics instruction in the nation's high schools, Miss Hildebrandt said.

Three years should be the minimum requirement for pre-college students, she suggested.

New Textbooks

As a member of the School Study Group in Mathematics, she is also aiding in work modeling new textbooks.

Miss Hildebrandt comes from a family steeped in mathematics. Two brothers are college professors in the field.

Other speakers at the Conference in Lincoln included Dr. Walter Mientka of the University of Nebraska Department of Mathematics; John Bryan, chairman of mathematics at Omaha North High School; Kenneth Hermsmeier, mathematics instructor at Seward High School, and Dr. Milton Beckmann of the University of Nebraska Teachers College.

Mientka told the 150 teachers present that high school students must be given a sounder foundation in algebra, geometry and trigonometry.

At the college level, he suggested, they can branch into such subjects as statistics, probabilities, logic and set theory.

The Conference was held to help teachers become more fully acquainted with methods, techniques, concepts and other aspects of modern mathematics.

LAFB Worker Creased During Shooting Scrape

A minor shooting scrape at the Lincoln Air Force Base housing area Wednesday afternoon resulted in a civilian construction worker being slightly nicked by a bullet.

The 40-year-old fellow worker who allegedly shot at him was held overnight at the County Jail on an open charge.

Dep. Co. Atty. Paul Douglas said 3 laborers got into an argument over ownership of a watch. Two of the men—a father and son—then reportedly attacked and beat up the third man, Douglas said.

The beating victim then went to his nearby car, got a pistol and started shooting at his two attackers.

5 Shots

Douglas said the man fired 5 times (another shot misfired) and one of the bullets brushed the leg of one of his attackers. The bullet, however, did not break the skin and the man did not require medical treatment.

The man wielding the gun was then disarmed by another laborer and he fled. He was taken into custody soon after by the Air Police, who turned him over to Sheriff's deputies.

Douglas said he will discuss the incident Thursday morning with Air Base officials to determine what if any charges will be filed. He said he understood the affair took place on federal property.

Army's First Moon-Rocket Shot Readied

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—Juno II, the Army's first moon rocket, is being readied for a trip that may carry a satellite millions of miles through outer space.

The huge launching rocket sat in the open for a brief period after the service tower was rolled back as part of the early countdown for a launching expected in a week or so.

What was seen was the familiar shape of the Army's powerful Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile. The top of the rocket, where the 30-pound satellite will be housed, was covered however.

Chances Slim

The Army hopes to blast the satellite further into space than any other man-made object on its first try. As in the previous 3 Air Force attempts, the chances for success are slim.

Dr. Wernher Von Braun, the Army's German-born rocket chief, said recently that if all goes well Juno II could become a man-made planet, never returning to earth.

Unlike the Air Force probes, which were fired toward an orbit around the moon, the Army space vehicle could soar millions of miles beyond the earth and moon until it fell into some unpredictable orbit around the sun.

The launching vehicle is a 4 stage rocket using the highly successful 1,500-mile Jupiter as the booster rocket.

Business Chiefs Told Right-To-Work Issue Decided Election

Butler, Alcorn Agree On Point

New York (AP) — The nation's business leaders were told that the right-to-work issue—which many of them espoused—was one factor that cost the Republicans the last election.

It was one of the few points on which there was agreement between the chairmen of the Republican and Democratic National Committees' Meade Alcorn and Paul M. Butler.

They offered their separate analysis of the Nov. 4 election at the annual convention of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

In the elections, the Republicans lost 13 Senate seats, a net of 47 House seats and a net of 5 governorships.

GOP chairman Alcorn said that from 1952 to 1956 the Republicans pretty well lived down the anti-labor, big business, Wall Street tag hung on it by the opposition in the 1930's. But then came the right-to-work issue in the 1958 campaign and, he said:

Revived

"The big business versus organized labor image was revived in the mind of a great majority of the nation's wage earners."

Democratic chairman Butler agreed that the right-to-work issue—anti-union shop proposals which won in only one of 6 states last month—provided the final undoing of the Republicans in several large industrial states.

But he maintained that the Republicans suffered even more from the charge of radicalism which President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon made against the northern wing of his party.

"You cannot win a national election by running against the hobgoblins of the 19th century," he added. "No sensible voter is ever going to be convinced that Sam Rayburn, Lyndon Johnson or any other Democratic leader is a 'Socialist, harebrained, spend-thrift radical' or a 'do-gooder, self-seeker or subversive.'"

Butler called national issues decisive in producing a strong Democratic tide, which he attributed also to what he called the responsible record of his party in Congress and in state governments.

The Democratic chairman said the election "produced not just a negative 'turn the rascals out' type of result, but a positive mandate for constructive action along liberal and progressive lines."

Alcorn contended the Republicans still have the better product to sell but he added:

"We lack the sales force."

Seed Warranty Decision Change Asked By Beck

Attorney General Clarence Beck asked the State Supreme Court Wednesday to reverse a Douglas County District Court decision stopping State Agriculture Director Ed Hoyt from refusing to approve seed labels containing limited warranty provisions.

The original action was brought by United Seeds, Inc., which sought a district court order to enjoin Hoyt from refusing to approve seed labels and tags containing limited warranty provisions, and to enjoin him from issuing stop-sale orders on seeds of the firm thus labeled.

In a brief filed with the high court, Beck said the Nebraska seed law in effect allows Hoyt to take the action he did in that it seeks to prevent fraud on farmers by unscrupulous seed dealers and to prevent the spread of noxious and harmful weeds.

Among the methods by which the law attempts to achieve these purposes, the brief said, is the device of requiring sellers of seed to label all packages of seed offered for sale in Nebraska and to give on the label specified information regarding the seed.

This information is essential for the protection of seed buyers, the brief said.

State Home School Asks Approval

The school at the Beatrice State Home has applied for approval from the State Department of Education, State Director of Special Education Verne Hungate has reported.

Hungate said all teachers in the school for educatable and trainable retarded children have been certified by the State Education Department.

He also said the State School for the Deaf in Omaha soon would apply for approval.

WE GIVE S&H GREEN STAMPS

And Eyes To See With

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It's human weakness to take things for granted when there has been no effort in obtaining them and little, if any, effort in retaining them. Something we have always had is seldom viewed with much thanks or appreciation. We even get to the point where we believe we are entitled to certain things as a result of current possession.

But what about some of these things we take for granted? There have been many reminders of the need to realize the care that must be exercised to retain our civil liberties. The right to vote has been so taken for granted that a great many people live and die having never exercised the right. People in America can say what they want to say and do what they want to do, outside of acts of treason, while people in many other parts of the world are shackled in speech and actions.

Freedoms Taken Lightly

It is probably because we take so many things for granted that we lose a great deal of the appreciation that should go along with having them. But this is not the case of Robert A. Kimball who has his sight today but has learned that it is a precious possession.

At one time not so long ago he had practically no sight but was restored to nearly normal vision through the program of the Lions Club eye bank. This is the program in which living people donate their eyes, after death, for the National Eye Bank.

Delicate operations are then performed to place the donated eye or parts thereof into a living but sightless person. Thus is restored the marvelous miracle of sight. But only a man like Mr. Kimball who has been without his eyes knows what a real miracle this is.

The beauty of it is that any of us can be a part of this miracle by becoming a donor in the program. It is easy to do through any Lions Club contact. It has often been said that the gift of sight is the most priceless gift of all and how true this must be.

Without sight, the world becomes a foreign land as so many of the things we do and have are centered about this one sense. The clothes you wear, the things you buy and the activities you engage in—all place a heavy emphasis on the eyes.

Cars are sold on the basis of horsepower, economy, etc., but American automobile manufacturers still believe that the appearance of the car is the major factor among a majority of buyers. Women's styles, for instance, would likely never change were it not for our ability to see and thus distinguish one year's color and design from another's.

It is by sight that you first come to know people and by which first impressions are made. It is likely that all of us would have an entirely different group of friends and even relatives if sight were not a part of the human anatomy. And of course, sight provides us with many of the pleasures of life. The sunrise in the morning, a full moon, a majestic mountain scene or a broad, clear lake — all of these are a part of our lives because we are able to see them. We can move about freely and without restraint because we are able to see what we are doing and where we are going.

What Vision Means

Our whole concept of life and everything it involves would be drastically changed without the sense of sight. Imagine, then, the challenge it is for one individual to experience this lack of sight when everything else about him is based on a different condition. There are compensations for the sightless, to be sure, but there is no substitute for the human eye.

Another Zoning Flop

It's getting to the point where it is no longer unusual but the City Council has flopped again in dealing with its zoning problems. The occasion this time was a change to business zoning along the east side of 48th just north of Calvert. The change was opposed by the City Planning Commission but the Council voted six to one in favor of the issue. A check of the records shows that Councilman Pat Ash cast the only dissenting vote.

Once again, the trouble in this case was failure to take an over-all look at the picture. The usual claims by the applicant were made. That is, there is no other property in the area available, the business is needed and, in this case, the zoning would act as a buffer between commercial and residential zoning.

As to the first assertion, the claim should be that there is no other property available at the price the applicant wants to pay. There is business property in College View that is unused at this time and other of it that could be put to a much better use. And anybody who thinks he needs a grocery store at 48th and Calvert is just having pipe dreams. Not that the store may not be a success, but it is needed about as bad as another filling station would be needed there.

And then there is the ridiculous "buffer" claim. If a large super-market is a good buffer next to residential property, we have a very mistaken notion of what a good home site is. But what is the result of the Council's swallowing all of this reasoning?

The results are two-fold and both of them damaging to the area involved. Worst of all, the action furthers strip zoning along 48th, the most costly and inefficient zoning you can have. Secondly, the action depreciates the established business area in College View. The change violates just about every concept of good zoning and should be reversed, even though we think we are wasting our breath.

Nebraska's Unhappy Record

There is no occasion to celebrate the most recent record achieved by Nebraska. Rather there is in it full cause for the most sober reflection.

During the first 11 months of 1958 Nebraska had 316 traffic fatalities. That was 18 per cent more than during the first 11 months in 1957 and considerably more than the average number in recent years.

As usual, by far the greater number of accidents were avoidable. The dreadful price resulted from a general refusal to be realistic about traffic hazards, a refusal to regard the car as a lethal force as well as a great human convenience.

One could attempt a case against the higher speed limits which were approved by the 1957 state legislature, an increase of five miles an hour allowing 65 miles speeds in daylight and 55 miles speeds after dark. But it would be a case of association rather than of proof, based mainly on the coincidence during one year of increased speeds and increased deaths.

Certainly the coincidence is cause for thought, but it does not account for so many accidents that happened at less than maximum speed. There is still the big factor of human error and the collateral warning that no regulatory law can either eliminate nor guard against that.

Safety is still largely the problem of the individual.

Opportunity For Economy

As a preliminary to his budget making President Eisenhower has named a new review committee to look into the military assistance program. If the committee can remain clear minded, is thorough and prudent, it can make a noteworthy contribution to economy.

Indeed, if the administration is to make consequential headway toward lowered government cost it will have to do most of its mining in the field of defense, for that is the greatest single item of expense and in itself is greater than the total of other government activities.

The United States years ago accepted the principle that security requires the arming of allied nations and others who, it appears, would be on our side in event of trouble. And it also accepted the principle that global controversy requires a projection of American military force to strategic points around the world.

Those principles perhaps are as valid as ever. But in this period of rapid change and military inventiveness it does not follow that any foreign assistance program can have abiding characteristics. A nation which perhaps needed arming a decade ago may today need no arming at all or such changed arming that past practices become wasteful.

It also follows that other nations do not always need the kind of arms we are in a position to produce at the moment. The instance of Laos is a good example. It received a type of armament which was unsuited to jungle war and when that kind of a war started the folly and waste of the preparations became embarrassingly evident.

A diligent committee, no doubt, can find other such examples and every one so found will contribute both to security and to economy.

Integrity Respected

America and the world were treated to an excellent example of free speech and democratic principles the other day when Singer Marian Anderson dutifully expressed her government's attitude in the United Nations concerning her racial cousins in Africa's Cameroons. Then in the same breath and without challenge she made it clear that her position was an instructed one. It did not come from her heart. It was evident that she believed American policy in this instance was in support of colonialism rather than in favor of African freedom. And it is interesting to note that her action resulted in a change of U.S. position and did not downgrade her.

It remains for the fully informed, of which there are but a few, to judge the correctness of Miss Anderson's position but it cannot be disputed that she demonstrated a rare degree of integrity as a representative of a nation which still prizes integrity and personal rights more than anything. If the people of United States needed any reassurance this gave it.

Kasper Hero Of Hate Peddlers

WASHINGTON — A dirty collar crowd of hate peddlers recently drifted into Louisville's Liberty Hall, barred all outsiders from their third-floor meeting room and staged a hootin', hollerin' hate revival.

The bizarre affair was billed as a "closed convention" of the National States Rights Party, called by Louisville Chiropractor Dr. Edward Fields. He brought together the nation's leading racial agitators to unite in a common crusade against minority groups.

This column can now report what happened behind those closed doors.

The hero of the motley crowd was tall, scowling John Kasper who was given a standing, stomping ovation every time his name was mentioned. He delivered the main speech, opening up with a snarling attack on Knoxville's Judge Robert Taylor who had sentenced him to jail after he incited riots in Clinton, Tenn.

"Hanging is too good for him!" Kasper denounced the judge. "In the old days, he would have been hanged, then taken down and drawn and quartered. And then they would have hoisted him on pikes above the city walls and let the crows eat on him three or four weeks."

☆ ☆ ☆

Kasper next launched into a tirade against the Jews, who, he charged, were behind dope rackets, corrupt labor unions, and school integration. He claimed that Jews control Congress, the Supreme Court, and "Ike the Kike" Eisenhower.

"When we knock down the Jews, we won't have any more Negro problem, That's for sure!" Kasper bellowed.

He tried to explain away his own past association with Negroes in New York's Greenwich Village where he once threw interracial parties and dated Negro girls.

"I used to think all our problems would be solved if every nigger would kill a kike," he explained.

After confessing this murderous scheme, Kasper blandly insisted he was against violence.

"I don't believe in violence chiefly because I don't think we can win that way," he said. "When we had our meeting in Nashville last fall, we had a crowd of about 10,000 people, and they were ready to go. If I had said, 'come on, let's go clean out nigger town,' they'd have gone. It would have been one of the biggest mass murders in history. But we didn't do that. We just wanted to do things the legal way."

Kasper also paid his respects to Governors "Happy" Chandler of Kentucky and Frank Clement of Tennessee.

"Happy Chandler and Frank Clement are in a contest," he snorted, "to see which one can outnigger the other one."

Election Ethics Up For Review

WASHINGTON — Normally the United States Senate and House of Representatives alike are reluctant to interfere with the results of an election. The best possible testimony to the unusual character of the defeats suffered by the only two House Democrats to be beaten November 4 is that a House Judiciary subcommittee will make a thorough investigation of both races.

A last-minute flood of segregationist stickers took from Representative Brooks Hays, the peacemaker of Little Rock, the seat he had occupied with distinction since 1942. Hays had won the Democratic primary and his name had been duly printed on the party ballot in the place prescribed by law.

Representative Coya Knutson of Oklee, Minn., fell victim to an on-again, off-again "Coya Come Home" campaign in which her aggrieved husband has played a somewhat ambiguous role. He now admits that this famous plea was written by her Republican opponents, and presumbly he is ready so to testify.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dr. Dale Alford, a segregationist member of the Little Rock school board is the beneficiary of the anti-Hays maneuver. His attitude is that he did it and is glad. He plans to present himself here in January with demands for all the rights, privileges and emoluments that go with being a member of the powerful Democratic majority, though he ran as an independent.

Republican Odin Langen, who won Mrs. Knutson's seat by a margin of 1,390 out of a total of 94,336 votes cast, has so far said only that he waged a clean campaign.

The simple circumstance that the Democratic House majority is so overpowering makes it possible to conduct the twin probes in an atmosphere of trying to win a seat the hard way in order to obtain legislative supremacy.

Nor are the legislators merely bent on helping a couple of pals, though Hays enjoys unusual stature and Mrs. Knutson, a relative newcomer, is popular and worked so effectively on farm problems that Agriculture Chairman Harold D. Cooley of North Carolina was the first member to spring to her defense.

What the congressmen realized as the two stories unfolded was, in truth and fact, their own potential vulnerability to just such campaigns.

There are moderate southerners in Congress and a substantial number who are as moderate as they feel they dare to be. It is true that in his Little Rock peacemaking, Hays stuck his neck out more than most, but all Southern moderates know they could be beaten also if the sticker blitz becomes an accepted fact of political life in Dixie. Indeed, if it succeeds, it probably will so become.

The peculiar vulnerability of women in public life to the attack on Mrs. Knutson has aroused the women associated with politics here and has apparently found an echo among the men. They know, too, that if the test of effectiveness should be a spouse's zeal for public office and its burdens, a great many male members of Congress would fall by the wayside.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Gaining In Favor Again

By HAL HASSELBALCH
Star Staff Writer

With styles and fads of the '20s becoming more and more popular these days, one of the more minor features of the era is also enjoying a comeback.

Chinese pugs, a breed historically popular with aristocrats, are riding a tide of comparative popularity. Where they were almost unknown a few years back, six or more have been seen at dog shows in eastern Nebraska the last year or so.

And doing their bit to boost the popularity of this small canine are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wadlow of 2301 South.

They have a pair of these affable little creatures. Pepin at 17 months is the older of the two but at that he is only two months older than his companion, Charcoal.

Though pugs as a breed are comparatively rare, Charcoal is especially unusual because she sports a solid black coat.

☆ ☆ ☆

Both are very sensitive pets. If one is laughed at or scolded, both sulk.

Sometimes they even shed big wet tears.

When Mrs. Wadlow was taking care of Pepin's uncle, she put a sweater on the dog and prepared to take him for a walk. But the pooch was so embarrassed in a sweater he refused to go outdoors!

Pugs originated in China. Some authorities think they have a common ancestor with Pekingese.

Both have short, pushed-in noses and big eyes. But beyond those characteristics, there is little similarity.

PEPIN and CHARCOAL
. . . a blanket and pillow in the Christmas bag . . .

Pugs are short-haired with unique curly tails. A good pug tail twists one and a half times. The dog is usually marked by a "thumbprint" in the middle of its forehead and a black "trail" down the back. The brow must be marked by several wrinkles.

The dogs were apparently introduced to Western Europe by Dutch traders. How early they were taken to Holland is not definite, but William III and Mary II are supposed to have taken a liking to the dogs on a visit to the Continent and some were taken to England in 1688.

They early became the mascots of the House of Orange. At one time pugs were generally collared with a orange ribbon, a carry-over from the time when they were associated with the House of Orange.

Characteristic of the breed, Pepin and Charcoal are affectionate rascals, ideal house dogs. Both love to pounce on the family beds. Charcoal scrambles to get under the covers while Pepin likes to relax on the pillows.

So each has a Christmas present in store, a blanket for Charcoal and a pillow for Pepin.

Pepin loves to be petted. To show he enjoys attention, he has developed a peculiar snore that becomes louder the happier he is.

He has had such good success with his snore that Charcoal is begining to copy it.

How far do the Wadlows plan to go with this pug business? They have not determined that yet but they speak enviously of Mrs. Wadlow's mother who keeps eight or a few more or less around her house at all times.

A Poor Idea

North Loup, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The 1959 Legislature will be asked to strip the governor and state engineer of their authority over the location, construction and maintenance of highways.

This proposition is a bad one. This proposed commission would not be responsive to the people of Nebraska.

The governor is responsive to the people, and must remain so in a democracy. It would also rob the governor of finance control.

Liberal Translation

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: After the disaster of November 4, the administration high command spake one to the other and declared: "All is not well between the shining seas. But in the far North there still gleams a star of hope. Let us soothe the sting of defeat by salvaging the favor of our puissant daughter of the Arctic."

So they commanded their handsome secretary of the interior and loaded him with multitudinous gifts to the people of this distant province. So obediently this subtle man winged his way over sea and land even till the peak of the mighty McKinley came into view. And he assembled the people together and spake unto them and said, "Your great White Father in Washington sends you his greetings and welcomes you into his household. Only remember now under whose aegis you became our daughter and we will give you many roads and harbors. And we will rescue you from the hateful salmon traps of the foreigner. And we will build many and handsome houses of learning for you. We will make you envied by all the folk of the Northland. None shall be equal to you in all these regions. Only remember us when you go to the polls next week."

And the people of Alaska answered straightway and rose up and said, "Get thee behind me, Seaton."

Majority Decision

Big Springs, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In my estimation and I think in the estimation of a great many others of the voters of the state of Nebraska, the Republicans are acting like a bunch of spoiled brats over their loss of the governorship and office of state treasurer, and in 1960 will do well to carry a postage stamp instead of an office.

It is disgusting to the people that a person cannot accept the mandate of the majority without making a mountain out of the issue. What makes the Republicans think they have a life lease on state offices?

The Republicans will learn to their sorrow that they have killed themselves off by their recount action.

Calling It Over

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I wish The Star would print the bylaws of our state constitution that have to do with voting and who checks the records. I wouldn't trust the Republicans even to hold the keys to the safe, after what has been going on.

I wonder if votes will be thrown out just to get the governor back in and if we taxpayers will have $30,000 to pay. I have never seen such poor losers. Why not call the election over?

I feel sorry for our election board workers, being called sloppy.

The Recount

Blair, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: What is really behind the inordinate desperation of Gov. Anderson, supported quite naturally by those whose jobs may well depend upon his continued tenure in office, plus that of at least a majority of Nebraska Republican party leaders?

What lengths, may we also ask, will these people go to get the necessary votes to win? Will there be a recount of the recount, etc.?

How can the governor-elect intelligently set up his new administration with the sinister threat of Mr. Anderson's desperation hanging as the pall of death over whatever action he must take? How can Mr. Brooks expect competent people to leave their present work to administer for him?

Are we to believe that every election count carries the possibility of vital error, in the nation as well as in Nebraska? How many Nebraska Republicans may well have gained—and maintained—high public office on miscounts?

Doesn't the political stature of Larry Brock and Nebraska Democrats stand out when, if ever a recount seemed right two years ago in the congressional race in the Third District in Nebraska, it was not attempted or threatened?

Certainly if Anderson, Spelts & Co. manage somehow to pick up 1,556 votes in a recount, what will over 220,000 Nebraska voters for Brooks think? And what will happen to Nebraska Republican office seekers in 1960?

Immunity Enjoyed

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Here's a quotation from The Star editorial, "Let It Slip," in the November 27 issue: " . . . federal authority stayed its hand in the case of Bernard Goldfine. It permitted the statute of limitation to run . . . " Will Adam Clayton Powell be the next culprit to enjoy immunity because of "lapse of time and operation of law?"

Goldfine's obstinate omission, without federal permission,
(To report his wartime profits as he is by law required.)
Will be barred from prosecution if he pleads for absolution;
For the time in which to prosecute has legally expired.

And there's Adam Clayton Powell, who once made his firm avowal
To support the GOP — when first he faced his income scrape—
Will he find the opportunity to claim the same immunity,
Occasioned by the law's delay, and thus make his escape?

He'll be forced to no atonement by delay, reprieve, postponement,
On the part of the department that's supposed to prosecute;
And with every dereliction he'll be farther from conviction,
For the lapse of time helps only the defendant in the suit.

Republican and Democrat! One congressman, one plutocrat!
Enjoying such indulgence as is hard to understand;
Indulgence that's denied to you, to me and all the millions who Thrive not upon the favors of the federal high command.

OFF THE RECORD By Ed. Reed

"Well, I have reason to believe he ISN'T out of town."

State Aid Urged For Disturbed Child Training

The hope that some group will request the 1959 Legislature to provide funds for working with Nebraska's emotionally disturbed public school children was expressed by Vernon Hungate, state director of special education.

Hungate said Nebraska's special education laws do not provide state excess cost reimbursement or supervisory and consultant services for emotionally disturbed children in the public school system.

Current law, he said, restricts services to physically handicapped and educable mentally handicapped public school children.

Hungate also said changes should be made in programs of teachers colleges to provide future teachers with more training in recognizing children suffering from emotional disorders.

Some training is now given in this field, but it doesn't come up to what is needed, he said.

Probably the greatest essential future development in special education is more understanding in such areas of teachers training as abnormal child psychology and mental health, he said.

This is especially needed, Hungate said, in view of the fact that one in every 16 Americans suffers from some type of mental disorder.

Hungate said teachers training programs should be co-ordinated with personnel available at the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute in Omaha, who also could help establish such training programs in the teachers' colleges.

Fire Hazards Found; N.Y. Closes 3 Schools

By The Associated Press

The New York City Fire Department closed 3 school buildings after fire hazards were discovered in them. From one of them, a public elementary school in the Bronx, 800 pupils were evacuated.

The closings grew out of a basement to roof inspection of the city's 1,500 public, private and parochial schools, a direct aftermath of the Chicago school fire which claimed 90 lives.

New York was one of numerous American cities that began tightening up on school inspections as a result of the disaster.

One of the buildings closed was a 4-story Hebrew parochial school in Brooklyn. Inspectors said fire exits were blocked with lumber and desks, rubbish and obstructions cluttered hallways and staircase windows had fixed iron bars. The school has 280 pupils.

Not Fireproof

Another installation closed was a Hebrew parochial school dormitory in Manhattan. The building was not fireproof and was strung with open wiring.

The Bronx school from which 800 students were evacuated is a 5-story brick building, PS38.

Fire Commissioner Edward Cavanagh Jr. said PS 38 was closed when inspectors discovered the automatic sprinkler system turned off, exits blocked, waste, acetylene torches and oxygen tanks in the basement and workmen smoking on the premises. Alteration work on the school currently is in progress.

Smoldering Rubbish

Chicago (AP) — A top investigator concluded that Chicago's disastrous school fire sprang from a smoldering pile of rubbish in the basement.

Sgt. Drew Brown, head of the police arson squad, reported his findings after an intensive inspection of the school where 37 children and 3 nuns perished Monday.

But he did not say how the fire originated in the rubbish.

Struggle For Life

Chicago (AP) A long, hard struggle to save survivors of Chicago's tragic school fire was in progress in the quiet of hospitals while the 90 dead were mourned in the hush of funeral homes.

Puzzled investigators pushed their effort to determine the cause of the blaze that killed 87 children and 3 nuns Monday in Our Lady of the Angels School.

They were joined by officials from other cities seeking to make sure their schools are protected against a similar disaster.

An appeal for blood for children under treatment in hospitals touched off a rush of donors.

Money Donated

Gifts of money to help families of the injured and the dead poured in at a rate of more than $2,000 an hour. The fund has passed the $60,000 mark just 24 hours after it was established.

Still in hospitals were 72 patients who were burned or injured in other ways, and 14 were on the critical list. Those with severe burns confronted doctors with the difficult double task of preserving life while healing seared bodies.

Bodies of the victims of the 3rd worst school fire in the nation in 100 years lay in 25 funeral chapels.

Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn expressed the belief that the fire started in papers stacked near the bottom of a wooden staircase in the northeast corner of the school.

Chicago Witnesses Swear Sheet Metal Union Official Took Shakedowns

Washington (AP) — Chicago area heating contractors swore that in order to go into business they had to make payoffs to Arthur H. Cronin and other officials of a Sheet Metal Workers Union local.

"Never in my life have I heard such lies," retorted the silver-haired Cronin, an international vice president of the union and president of Local 73 in Chicago.

Other officers of the local also denied, in testifying before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, that they had demanded and received payments for supplying the businessmen with union labor.

But one small contractor after another told of making payoffs, principally to Cronin, and said it was the only way they could do business and have labor peace. Some of them called it a common practice.

At the conclusion of the hearing, committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said much of the testimony was in irreconcilable conflict and would be sent to the Justice Department with a view to possible prosecution for perjury.

The committee also announced that it had been forced to revise its plans to start Thursday 4 weeks of hearings on alleged racketeer infiltration of juke box operations and other phases of the coin machine business.

Two witnesses, Frank Cammarata and Joseph Blumetti, both of Youngstown, Ohio, will be questioned Thursday but then a halt will be called until after Jan. 1 because not enough senators planned to stay here over the holidays.

Cammarata is a one-time Detroit gangster, while Blumetti is business agent of teamsters union Local 410 in Youngstown.

At Wednesday's hearing, Cronin and other officials of the Sheet Metal Workers Union in Chicago were pictured not only as extorting shakedown money but as trying to arrange rigged bidding on city and county building projects.

Cecil H. Johnson, head of Bond Ventilating Co., Bridgeview, Ill., testified he quickly learned after starting his business in 1949 that he would have to pay Cronin $300 in cash before he could start hiring union workers.

Altogether, Johnson said, he gave Cronin $650 plus a $75 pair of cuff-links for Christmas.

Wilbur Jolicoeur, president of the Jolicoeur Heating Co., Melrose Park, Ill., testified he also paid $300 in cash to go into business. "I was told it was compensation for union officials," he said.

John Merrow, head of the J. M. Heating Co., Oak Lawn, Ill., said he made a similar $300 payment to one of Cronin's top aides, Joseph Kaberlein, a business agent of Local 73.

Ag Students Not Enough To Fill Need

Less than half the number of worker replacements needed on Nebraska's farms would be, filled if all senior year high school vocational agriculture students returned to the farms following graduation, a state official said Wednesday.

Harold Duis, state vocational agriculture director, said Nebraska's high schools are training less than half the number of manpower replacements needed for Nebraska farms each year.

One of the reasons for this, he said, has been reports in the national press that the family farm is disappearing.

This tends to discourage potential farmers from entering the field, he said.

Duis said the statistics on the number of replacements needed on Nebraska's farms each year is being gleaned from a survey his department is making of all vocational agriculture teachers throughout the state.

The survey was begun, he said, in an attempt to derive the minimum number of course hours needed in various phases of vocational agriculture in order to supplement the student's high school work with additional general education courses.

Following completion of the survey, proposals for changes in the vocational agricultural program will be submitted to the State Board of Education for approval.

School Bds. Meet To Get 4 Resolutions

Four major resolutions will be placed before the Nebraska State School Boards Assn. when it meets in Lincoln Jan. 19-20.

Drawn up by the Legislative Committee, the resolutions will include proposals:

—That the state provide aid of $100 per student to schools.

—That further extension of federal aid be opposed.

—That the authority of the State Board of Education be strengthened and clarified as to setting up standards for approving and accrediting school districts.

That by 1965 all persons entering the teaching profession in Nebraska be required to have at least a bachelor's degree.

Mrs. L. J. Williams of Wahoo is chairman of the Legislative committee. Members include Mrs. Rose Vyhnalek of Crete, C. L. Abbott of Scottsbluff, Dr. Harold B. Smith of Kearney and Alden Anderson of Harrisburg. Richard C. Brown of Holdrege is executive secretary.

Dead End Street Opens Like Magic

BEATRICE, Nebr. — Mrs. E. M. Graham, 919 Elk St., says: "Several years ago my husband had dandruff and itchy scalp very bad. My son worked at the drug store, and he kept hearing so many people praise Baker's Hair Tonic, so he brought home a bottle. In just a short time my husband was free of the torment caused by dandruff and itchy scalp. We have never been without Baker's since." It's so easy and pleasant to use. Not messy or greasy like most so-called dandruff remedies. Use it any time, anywhere. There is no Federal excise tax on Baker's Hair Tonic, because it's a specific for dandruff. If you have been traveling down what seemed to be a "dead end street" looking for something to clean up dandruff and itchy scalp, your search will end like magic when you use Baker's Hair Tonic. You can depend on it — Baker's will clean up dandruff and itchy scalp, or money back. Adv.

State Traffic Death Rate 4th Worst

. . . Lincoln Safety Record Tops Through October

Nebraska scored the 4th worst traffic fatality rate percentagewise in the nation during the first 10 months of 1958.

Meanwhile, Lincoln ranked among the 3 best cities in its population class for the same period, the National Safety Council reported Wednesday.

However, Lincoln noted 3 traffic deaths during November.

Nebraska showed a 15% increase in the number of fatalities through October over the same period last year, the Safety Council reported.

The state recorded an even higher 18% increase in road deaths through November, according to Robert Pease, director of the State Accident Records Bureau.

Only South Dakota (43%), Maine (40%) and Idaho (35%) showed higher percentage increases in traffic deaths for the first 10 months of 1958.

316 Deaths

Nebraska has recorded 316 traffic fatalities this year compared with 277 at this time last year.

Lincoln, which recorded 3 traffic deaths during the first 10 months, ranked with Hartford, Conn., and Amarillo, Tex., among the lowest traffic death rates for cities of 100,000 to 200,000 population.

Lincoln police officials congratulated motorists for their good record until November, although they noted that the number of accident and injuries had increased during that period.

"Motorists themselves make the records," police noted.

Omaha is among 26 cities of 200,000 or more population which had fewer deaths for the 10-month period than for the same months of the previous year. Omaha has had 21 traffic deaths to date, 3 less than a year ago.

Government Says 4.5 Million May Be Jobless This Winter

Washington (UPI) — Government officials said the recent improvement in unemployment was expected to end soon with the result that more than 4,500,000 Americans might be looking for work in mid-winter.

Labor Department manpower experts said the anticipated rise in unemployment would be only seasonal. But they pointed out the upturn was starting from a much higher level than usual since unemployment was estimated at 3,805,000 in October.

A spurt in jobless totals was considered almost certain to bring renewed congressional demands for federal aid to depressed areas and increased unemployment benefits. Both would run counter to the administration's economy drive.

The advent of cold weather always signals layoffs for workers on farms and in construction and amusement industries. However, pre-Christmas retail trade and services will soften the impact of the layoffs until after the holidays, the economists said.

First Increase

One recent clue to the forthcoming spiral was the first increase since mid-July in the number of workers claiming jobless benefits. The total receiving unemployment compensation probably will surpass 3,000,000 by February or March, one Labor Department official said.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, recently expressed concern that unemployment would be relatively high for most of 1959.

Clague believes there are 3 reasons why joblessness will be a national problem next year despite the evident recovery in production, income and sales.

First, he said, employers were getting increased production per man-hour by use of labor-saving machinery and abandonment of obsolete, wasteful plants. A normal 3% advance in productivity would wipe out the need for 2,000,000 workers in 1959, he said.

Secondly, the economy must provide jobs for about 1,250,000 of the present 3,800,000 unemployed to get back to a relatively low level of joblessness.

Third, about 790,000 newcomers who will join the labor force in 1959 must be absorbed.

Quick Switch

Denham, Eng. (UPI) — When Queen Mother Elizabeth opened their new bungalow home project, retired public house (bar) owners served tea for the occasion. As soon as she left, they broke out a stock of liquor and beer. "We're a bit more accustomed to that," one explained.

Eberhardt New Rail Workers' Representative

H. C. Eberhardt of Ogallala was elected legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees for the coming year at a state meeting of the legislative committee of the group in Lincoln.

Eberhardt succeeds Chris Blaser of Beatrice who declined renomination due to his duties as newly elected mayor of Beatrice.

L. G. Anderson of Omaha was elected vice legislative representative.

Nationalized

Jakarta, Indonesia (AP) — All Dutch banks, plantations, railways and business firms taken over by the Indonesian government a year ago were ordered nationalized by law.

Parliament rode down proposals of the opposition Catholic and Masjimi Moslem parties to nationalize only those enterprises considered vital to Indonesia's economy.

HST Advocates Majority Vote Curb On Filibusters

Washington (UPI)—Former President Harry S. Truman said Wednesday he favored a rule to permit the Senate to choke off filibusters by majority vote. But he said he doubted that the Senate would agree to such a plan.

The 74-year-old ex-president, chipper and in good health, led a parade of Democrats to Washington for weekend meetings to celebrate the party's Nov. 4 election triumph and plan the 1960 campaign.

He said he hoped Vice President Nixon would win the 1960 Republican nomination because he would "be the easiest to beat." He said he could "pick a dozen" Democratic nominees who could win, but he refused to name any.

Fight Duel On Border

. . . In Galilee Hills

Jerusalem (AP) — Syrian and Israeli artillery exchanged heavy gunfire for an hour Wednesday in the pastorial hills of Galilee.

The big shooting was set off by an incident involving shepherds tending their livestock.

Israel reported one shepherd was shot dead and 3 Israeli settlers were wounded. Israeli villagers were terrorized and damage to their property was reported.

A U.N. spokesman said the artillery duel ended at nightfall, 15 minutes after a U.N. demand for cease fire.

U.N. truce supervision organization observers are preparing a report.

A United Arab Republic Army spokesman in Damascus said there were no Syrian casualties.

Although it was reported in Damascus that the Syrians had complained to the Israeli-Syrian Mixed Armistice Commission of the U.N., the U.N. spokesman said that up to Wednesday night only Israel's complaint had been received.

AF ACCUSED

Frankfurt, Germany (AP) — Czechoslovakia accused the U.S. Air Force of provocative maneuvers over the West German-Czech border.

A note to the American Embassy at Prague said such maneuvers were "especially provocative and dangerous" because American planes "often carry atom and hydrogen bombs."

U.S. Air Force Headquarters at Wiesbaden said American pilots are under orders not to fly too close to the border.

Father Of 6 Gets Commutation, To Be Deported

A 36-year-old Colorado man, Jorge R. Hernandez, sentenced to the Nebraska Penitentiary May 16, 1956 to 15 years for assault to rape won commutation and was released to immigration authorities Wednesday by the State Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Wanted by federal authorities for deportation to his native Mexico, the father of 6 boys told the Pardon Board he had learned his lesson during his term at the Penitentiary and would keep for the rest of his life the sense of right he now has.

Hernandez' wife and 6 small sons appeared before the board in his behalf.

The Board granted a parole (effective Mar. 1) to 37-year-old Melvin Martin of Hastings who has spent the past 8 years in Kansas and Nebraska penal institutions on burglary charges.

Martin, who had been in the Penitentiary once previously, and the Nebraska Reformatory prior to that, told the Board that he had spent most of the past 8 years "inside the walls" and that this had made him "stop and realize what you miss" when one is not a free man.

The Board heard 6 cases at the Penitentiary and took this action:

Billy R. Kane, 26, New Orleans, La., sentenced from Box Butte County Mar. 31, 1955 to 3-6 years for breaking and entering, paroled.

Keith R. Beyl, 34, Cozad, sentenced from Dawson County Dec. 10, 1957 to two years for conspiracy to commit felony, paroled.

Andrew Farrow, 35, Omaha, sentenced from Douglas County Oct. 16, 1956 to 4 years for assault to inflict great bodily injury, paroled.

Jorge R. Hernandez, 36, Julesburg, Colo., sentenced from Keith County May 16, 1956 to 15 years for assault to rape, commuted to immigration authorities.

James S. Greenlee, 46, North Platte, sentenced from Lincoln County Feb. 8, 1958 for 1½ to 2 years for burglary, paroled.

Melvin Martin, 37 Hastings, sentenced from Webster County Dec. 1, 1956 to 5 years for burglary, paroled.

Arson Involved In Ft. Calhoun Fire

Arson definitely played a role in a recent explosion and fire which gutted Jim and Alma's Steak Home at Fort Calhoun, V. W. Germain, arson investigator for the state fire marshal's office, announced.

Germain said his fieldmen are continuing their investigation of the explosion and will do so until the case is closed.

Army Experimenting With A Gas To Put Enemy To Sleep

New York (AP)—An Army general said the army is experimenting with a gas that it hopes will put an enemy to sleep without serious harm.

Maj. August Schomburg, deputy chief of ordnance, emphasized that the Army is a long way from such a goal. He discussed the attempts, along with the Army's basic research program, before the 40th annual meeting of the American Ordnance Assn.

Army chemical research on various nerve gases have been reported for years. The basic purpose of such nonpoisonous gas is to immobilize an enemy, possibly by an airplane spray.

State Expects $400-$500 Price Jump On Patrol Cars

By Betty Person

State Purchasing Agent Tom Coffey said Wednesday he expects the price of some 50 State Safety Patrol cars, upon which he will take bids within the next two weeks, to be some $400 to $500 higher than those purchased a year ago.

He said the Department expects to use Chevrolets or Fords or possibly some heavier cars for the Patrol, but before they purchase any auto for the Patrol, the cars will be put to a strenuous performance test to determine which will best serve the needs.

"Everybody bidding on the Patrol vehicles will have to provide a sample car which will be tested by the Patrol," Coffey said.

Give Them Tough Test

Troopers will take the sample cars to the Harvard Air Base for tests on the air strip first, and then will put them into active service on the road for one or two weeks before it is decided which make will be bought, he said.

The higher price is the result of the "Big Three" (General Motors, Ford and Chrysler) car manufacturers' decision not to allow "concession" prices to states on fleet purchases, Coffey said.

This decision was caused by "two Eastern states which bought cars at the lower 'concession' prices, put a few miles on them, and then turned around and sold them for about the same price at which they were bought," the state purchasing agent commented.

Independents Eyed

"The car manufacturers have struck back at all of us instead of just the two states," Coffey said, but added that because of this, Nebraska may consider buying Studebakers and Ramblers for other state departments.

Coffey said he would take bids on Studebakers and Ramblers for the dozen or so cars to be purchased for other departments this month, and "if the bids are favorable, we'll take a look at them."

Asked about consideration of buying small foreign cars, Coffey said, "Inasmuch as the American economy is pretty well geared to the automobile business, it doesn't seem fair to me to use foreign cars for government business—yet."

Commenting on the purchase of cars generally for the state, (which totals about 400 a year) Coffey said he intends "to hold the purchase of cars to an absolute minimum until this thing gets settled in Detroit."

State Industrial Mishaps Drop

Judge Albert Arms of the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Court said Wednesday the court received reports on 34,639 industrial accidents during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1958, or 871 less than were reported during the previous fiscal year.

Judge Arms

However, fatal accidents the past fiscal year totaled 75, or 7 more than were reported to the court during the previous fiscal year.

Compensation paid during the year totaled $4,018,440.71, or approximately $74,000 more than the cost of accidents during the 1957 fiscal year.

Judge Arms said the 7 more fatal accidents reported during the fiscal year ending June 30, all resulted from automobile, truck or tractor accidents.

Overall, automobile, truck and tractor accidents totaled 330 more than last year.

This increase, coupled with the smaller number of industrial accidents, Judge Arms said, indicates that Nebraska industry is gradually becoming safer, but that respect for rules of road safety is diminishing.

The increased amount of compensation paid during the recently ended fiscal year probably reflected the boost of weekly benefit rates to $4 and increased cost of hospital and medical expenses, Judge Arms said.

Mary Gilmore Heads County Superintendents

Mary Gilmore of Broken Bow was elected president of the Nebraska Assn. of County School Superintendents as the association's annual 3-day convention opened Wednesday.

Miss Gilmore

Miss Gilmore, Custer Co. Superintendant, succeeds Jesse Shedd of Scottsbluff as president of the organization.

Other officers elected were: Paul Belz, Stapleton, vice president; Sylvia Ziegler, Imperial, secretary; L. H. Siekmann, Benkelman, treasurer; and Alice French, O'Neill, sergeant-at-arms.

Elected to the Legislative committee were: Joe Phillips, Fremont; Ruth Jamison, Kearney; and Shedd.

During the organization's afternoon business meeting the county superintendents went on record as favoring legislation which would strengthen the office of County Superintendent.

The proposed legislation would require the superintendent to have a master's degree plus a professional administrative supervisory certificate in counties with a population of 10,000 or more and a bachelor's degree plus an initial administrative supervisory certificate in smaller counties.

A salary schedule based on that of Nebraska's county judges was recommended to accompany the new requirements.

Salary schedule: In counties with a population of:

Less than 3,000	$4,000
3,000 to 6,500	$4,500
6,500 to 10,000	$5,000
10,000 to 15,000	$5,500
15,000 to 25,000	$6,000
25,000 to 65,000	$6,500
65,000 to 100,000	$8,500
100,000 to 200,000	$9,500
200,000 and over	$10,000

Legislation to enable the state's tax supported colleges to offer off-campus courses was also urged by the superintendents.

A proposal to support legislation which would require an enrollment of 10 pupils in order to reopen a school that has contracted for instruction two or more years.

The education officials also ruled in favor of:

1. Supporting exploration of methods to insure county superintendents of at least one full-time secretary.
2. Urging the extention of the continuing contract coverage to Class 1 schools.
3. Supporting a policy of sick leave benefits fir all school teachers.
4. Seeking legislation to equalize costs of education in a state-aid program.
5. Supporting legislation which will increase the amount expended by districts for library purposes.
6. Recommending that the State Dept. of Education revise upward the standards of pre-kindergarten testing.
7. Supporting educational standards formulated by the State Board of Education for all Nebraska schools.
8. Aiding the Nebraska Sheriff's Assn. in attempting to raise mileage to 10 cents per-mile.
9. Authorizing the Executive Board to contribute toward the cost of the legislative committee seeking the mileage raise.
10. Supporting any attempt to improve retirement laws.
11. Insisting that the intermediate administrative unit must be a part of any plan in the reorganization of school districts in Nebraska.

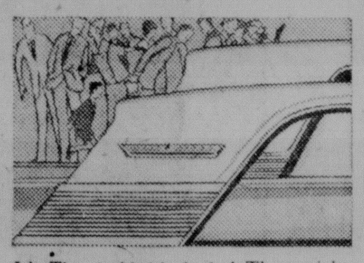
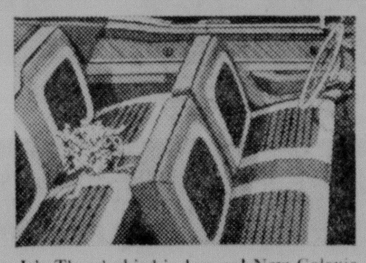
THE MOST BEAUTIFUL WEDDING OF THE YEAR

They're married in style and luxury! The Thunderbird and the new Ford Galaxie.

Announcing
THE NEW FORD Galaxie



It's Thunderbird in looks! The straight-line Galaxie roof and see-it-all rear window say Thunderbird unmistakably. So does the classic simplicity of its body lines. It's the most perfect match yet of the Thunderbird's clean, low-swept silhouette.



It's Thunderbird in luxury! New Galaxie appointments—like the plush, deep-pile carpets—are so very Thunderbird in taste. There's Thunderbird V-8 power, too! A surpassing luxury that tells you how superbly these newlyweds "GO" together.

Just Married in Style to the Thunderbird!

It's the most exciting of all the 59 Fords—the elegant new Galaxie. A bright new personality in cars—and more. The Galaxie is a full "fine car" 6-passenger expression of Thunderbird grace and luxury in an altogether new line of Fords. It's as wonderfully all-the-way Thunderbird as a low-price Ford can be.

Reception now—you are invited. Come and see the Galaxie and the very full measure of elegance it brings to the low-price field. True, Ford owners are accustomed to luxury—and at the low Ford price. But never in any Ford—nor in cars costing far more—have you seen anything as sweet, smart and glamorous as this! Come see Ford's new Galaxie today . . . and bring the entire family.

You'll want to honeymoon again in a 59 FORD

Some Money You Get Isn't (Yes, Isn't) Subject To Tax

(This is the one in a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the Nebraska Society of Certified Public Accountants and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

You may think that listing your income is the easiest part of preparing a tax return. Actually, according to the Internal Revenue Service, this is where taxpayers make the greatest number of errors.

Not all of the money that may have come to you during 1958 needs to be reported on your tax form. For example, don't report:

(1) "Dividends" received on an insurance policy. They are considered merely a refund of part of the premium you paid.

(2) Social Security benefits, Railroad Retiremnt Act benefits, or payments received under Workmen's Compensation laws.

(3) Property or cash gifts received from other people, although the giver may have to pay a gift tax. Tips and other compensation for services must be reported however.

(4) Inheritances and bequests. The estate may be taxed, but not the recipient.

If you were injured and received damages, this is not considered taxable income and it makes no difference whether your damages were awarded by a court or settled out of court.

When listing income you can also forget about most government benefits to veterans and their families. Dividends paid on veteran's Government insurance is not considered taxable income, but non-disability retirement pay and the interest on terminal leave bonds must be included.

If you were absent from work due to injury or sickness and received payments from your employer or his insurance company, these payments are non-taxable within these two limitations:

First, the maximum amount is $100 per week, plus any amounts which came from your own contribution to the plan.

Second, unless the absence was for sickness during which you were hospitalized for at least one day or for a personal injury, the payments are not tax free until after the first 7 calendar days of absence.

If these payments are included in the wages shown on your withholding slips, you should subtract the proper amount from your income in the place provided on the first page of the tax return (Form 1040). Attach an explanation as described in the official instruction book. You are entitled to exclude this amount even if you do not itemize deductions.

Rules on Prizes

There is an interesting rule on prizes. Generally all prizes and awards are taxable. However, prizes awarded for scientific, literary or other achievements without any action by you to bring about your selection, are not considered as taxable income to you. Most scholarships granted to college students are not taxable, and the value of the award does not have to be included in the student's contribution to his support.

The official instructions contain a list of the types of income which should or should not be included in your tax return. It is important to check this list carefully.

Killer Admits 1946 Death Of Sister, 12

Toulon, Ill. (AP)—The convicted slayer of a young mother has admitted the strangling of his 12-year-old sister in 1946.

Sheriff Burt Eltzroth of Stark County said Merlin W. Leadley, 26, told of the 2nd slaying in a statement two weeks ago and one day before he began a 99-year prison term for killing Mrs. Donna Fritch, 24.

Leadley was 14 when the body of his sister, Joan, was found in a woods near the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Leadley of Wyoming, Ill. Leadley told authorities then that he and his sister were playing hide and seek and she became lost.

Natural Death

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of natural death. A pathologist reported death was caused by an enlarged thymas, a gland in the lower part of the throat. Some scratches were found on the throat.

State's Atty. Eugene H. Rennick Jr. gave no reason for delaying announcement of Leadley's statement.

"We are faced with the problem of a confession not supported by other collaborative evidence," Rennick pointed out. "If warranted, a charge could be brought later."

Mrs. Fritch, mother of two, was found dead, her throat slashed, on the floor of the Wyoming store in which she was a clerk. Leadley confessed to the killing after a lie test. He said he killed the woman because she resisted his advances.

Radio Contact Up To 400,000 Miles Away Foreseen

Washington (AP) — The Army's imminent try at reaching the vicinity of the moon will test a new space communications system deemed capable of keeping radio contact at distances up to 400,000 miles.

And by 1962, project scientists say, the system should be able to capture space signals from as far as 4 billion miles away.

Informed sources said the new system will make use of an 85-foot diameter antenna in the Mojave Desert in southern California.

The air force's worldwide network of 6 tracking stations also has been made available for tracking the Army's moonshot, scheduled for the next few days. So has the big radio telescope at Jodrell Bank, England.

Municipal Association Seeks More Federal Aid

Urban Renewal, Defense Cited

Boston (UPI)—The American Municipal Association, an organization of 1,200 mayors and other top city officials, ended a 5-day convention with a plea for more financial aid from the U.S. government.

The AMA, in its official policy statement for the coming year, urged more federal funds for urban renewal, civil defense, the U.S. information agency, water pollution control, local airports, depressed areas, training public health workers, and hospitals.

Guest speakers, Sens. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) and Albert Gore (D-Tenn), joined the appeal for more federal help. Javits proposed a 15-year, 10-billion-dollar federal-state municipal urban renewal and housing program.

Gore promised to "push vigorously" for urban renewal and housing in the next session of Congress. The AMA passed resolutions calling for a 10-year, 6 million dollar urban renewal program.

Elected

Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland was elected AMA president for 1959, succeeding Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco.

The AMA said urban renewal was the device for preserving the economic health of urban communities where 65% of Americans live.

"Large scale and continuing federal assistance is urgently required unless and until such time as the federal government restores to the states and to local governments the resources and taxing power which would eliminate the need for federal assistance," said one resolution.

Other resolutions appealed to Congress for funds to carry out the civil defense program, more money for the U.S. Information Service, 50 million dollars more for the Water Pollution Control Act, 100 million dollars a year for aid-to-airports and 75 million dollars for aid to areas depressed by unemployment.

Motto Ignored

London (UPI) — The marquess of Northampton has married Lady Elspeth Teynham. She is his 3rd wife. The marquess'-family motto is "I seek but one."

200 County High School Youths Visit Courthouse

The duties and responsibilities of county elected officials were explained Wednesday to about 200 Lancaster County high school students at the annual County Government Day program at the Courthouse.

The students, high school juniors and seniors representing 14 county high schools, spent the day learning the routine of the various county offices. They spent most of their time in the office to which they had been "elected" by their fellow students.

The students toured the Courthouse and also were guests at a luncheon at which Dr. Frank Court, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church, spoke.

The students will return to their respective high schools and give talks to their fellow students on what they learned about the operation of county government.

No Meeting

Beaumont, Tex. (AP)—Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) said he plans no meeting with newly elected Democratic senators.

The Chicago Sun-Times, in a story from its Washington bureau, said Johnson planned to meet with Democratic party liberals and moderates in Washington this weekend in an effort to shore up party unity. The Sun-Times said most if not all of the 15 newly elected Democratic senators would attend.

Ships Saved

Dover, England (AP)—Rescue tugs won a battle to save two Greek freighters after a collision in the fog-bound English Channel.

The 11,156-ton freighter King Minos sliced into the 7,194-ton Greek-owned grain ship Prodromos and cut the grain carrier in two 3 miles off Dungeness.

The captain, boatswain and radio officer of the Prodomos stayed aboard the fore end that remained afloat. Agents for the ship said they knew of no casualties among the 30 crewmen.

New Ideas From The Christmas Kitchen

A fresh array of cheese hors d' oeuvres will add more than a little charm to the coffee service on your coffee table when holiday guests come to call. There is no doubt concerning the recipes we are about to pass on to you—each and everyone has been tested and each passed with flying colors. And you have a choice—hot or cold. Take a look—

HOT PARMESAN AND ROMANO CHEESE PUFFS

(Makes about 30 puffs)

2 egg whites
Pinch of cayenne
1 (3 oz.) canister grated Parmesan and Romano Cheese

In heavy saucepan, melt fat to depth of 3-inches. Heat fat to 350 degrees F. on deep fat thermometer or until a cube of day-old bread browns in 60 seconds. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold in cayenne and cheese (mixture will decrease in volume when cheese is added). Drop by teaspoonfuls into fat. Cook until delicately browned on all sides, about 3 to 4 minutes. Remove from fat with a slotted spoon; drain on absorbent paper. Dust with paprika. Serve hot.

MUSHROOM ONION

1 tablespoon butter
1 cup (¼ lb.) finely chopped fresh mushrooms
½ cup finely chopped onion.
Salt and pepper to taste

Melt butter in skillet; saute mushrooms and onions until onions are tender and lightly browned. Cool.

CREAM CHEESE PASTRY

(Makes eighty ½-inch diam. canapes)

1 (5 oz.) plastic dish cream cheese
½ cup butter
1 cup sifted flour

Let cream cheese and butter soften at room temperature. Cream together until fluffy. Blend in flour. Divide dough into two balls; wrap in waxed paper. Chill until firm, about 1 hour. Roll out each ball on well floured board to rectangle 14x10-inches; cut dough into quarters, cover with desired filling. Roll up jelly-roll-fashion; wrap in waxed paper and chill. Cut rolls in ½-inch slices. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (400 F.) about 15 to 20 minutes or until lightly browned.

POLKA DOT PASTRY

2 large dill pickles
6 pimientos (7-oz. can)

Slice pickles lengthwise into ⅛-inch strips. Open pimientos flat; slice crosswise into ⅛-inch strips. Drain pickle and pimiento strips on absorbant paper until ready to use. Arrange alternate strips of pickle and pimiento across pastry dough until all strips are used.

DEVILED HAM

1 (4½-oz.) can deviled ham.

Spread deviled ham over surface of cream cheese pastry dough.

Junior League Foursomes For Fun And Funds

You pick your partner, brush up on your rules, and away you go — off for a winter of bridge and an enjoyable way of raising funds for your organization.

The Junior League of Lincoln organized its bridge leagues last year and they proved so successful that three full leagues began a new series this fall. Facetiously named the Jonquil, Petunia and Bluebell leagues, the groups meet every two weeks with a complicated mix-up of players. At the end of the year, everyone has served as hostess and, with her partner, has played against every member of her league.

The Star In Suburbia

EASTBOROUGH

Mr. and Mrs. Don Mitchell entertained out-of-town guests during the Thanksgiving holidays. The visitors were Mrs. Mitchell's father, H. W. Hansen, and Mrs. Hansen, who returned to their home in Arkansas City, Kan., on Sunday.

A newcomer to the bassinet brigade in Eastborough this week is Bert Arnold Sorensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Sorensen, who arrived at St. Elizabeth Hospital on Friday, Nov. 29.

Bert's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Sorensen, and Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt G. Barber are the maternal grandparents.

Learned that the young ladies in Mrs. Merton Norton's 2nd grade Brownie Troop were busily at work Wednesday learning the art of making Santa Claus figures out of apples, and making plans for their mid-December Christmas party. Also on the agenda this month will be the fashioning of surprise Christmas presents for their parents.

PARK VALLEY HEIGHTS

Heard that Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Davis and their children, Yvonne and Scott, entertained at a family dinner held at their home on Thanksgiving Day. Included among the dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kamprath and their children, Kathy, Karen and David, and Mrs. L. H. Slonecker, all of Seward; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Slonecker, Susan, Steven and Jane, of Columbus; and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Becker Jr., Gary, Jenny and Paula, of Kearney.

Joining the Davis family for the evening were Mrs. Davis' aunt, Mrs. Claude Buffalo, and her cousin, Gayle Buffalo, his wife and children. All are of Boise, Idaho.

MEADOW LANE

A warm welcome this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Olson who moved to Lincoln and hence to Meadow Lane this fall from their former home in Exeter. The new address for the Olsons is 1025 W. Avon Lane.

Younger members of the Olson family include Kristine, who is a sophomore at Northeast High School, nine year-old Richard and six year-old Robert, both of whom attend Meadow Lane School.

We hardly can welcome Mr. and Mrs. Quinton D. Whiteman and their sons, Gery, Ronald and Scott, as new residents of the Meadow Lane suburb since they have lived in the area for some time. However, our news of the Whiteman family this morning lies in the fact that they moved from their home at 7136 York Lane the middle of last month, and are now settled in their new home at 810 Northborough Lane.

Bridge Party

The alumnae of Gamma Phi Beta sorority will hold their December meeting next Wednesday evening at the chapter house, at 7:30 o'clock. The evening hours will be spent with bridge, and a highlight will be a cookie exchange.

Members of the hostess committee will be Miss Mary Lou Babst, Mrs. Dee Ehrlich, Mrs. Randy Ewing and Mrs. Don Bryant.

We Hear That

Leaving this morning by plane for an extended business and pleasure trip are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Berniklau who will fly to Nassau, Bahama Islands, where they will make the Emerald Beach Hotel their vacation headquarters. En route home, the travelers will fly to Miami where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Fred Quarles, former Lincoln residents.

Dear Abby . . .

Always A First Time!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The first time I ever disagreed with one of your answers was when you told that girl not to date boys out of her religion. Just because a girl goes out with a boy once or twice doesn't mean she is going to marry him. I think it is perfectly okay to date out of your own religion as long as you don't get serious.

MARY JO

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I would like to say a few words to the sixteen-year-old girl whose father wouldn't allow her to date boys other than those of her own religion: Please listen to him. He is trying to save you lots of heartbreak. I dated a boy out of my religion. It all started with just a casual date. I enjoyed his company and we dated again and again. Before we realized it we fell in love. We were both strong in our own religions so there was no way out. We broke up. Although I'll never forget him, I know it is best. Please listen to your father. He is a wise man.

VERY SORRY

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a best friend who talks big but acts small. I recently had a baby and this best friend and his wife sent me the cheapest gift I ever saw. I am ashamed to show it to anybody. The wife of this best friend is going to have a baby in March. Should I wrap up this cheap gift and send it back to them just to show them how cheap they are?

ANGRY

DEAR ANGRY: Forget that little scheme: It would only show them how cheap YOU are.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO UNCLE MAX: It's not so important to add YEARS TO OUR LIFE as it is to add LIFE to your YEARS.

CONFIDENTIAL to "PLEASINGLY PLUMP:" Man like chemises like childhood diseases.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Wesleyan Wins 1st NAIA 'Tip-Off' Championship

IT'S OFFICIAL: LINCOLN'S IN

NWU Dumps Doane 65-58

Midland Takes 3rd With 71-65 Victory; Dana Wins 5th

By Bob McCoy

Nebraska Wesleyan served notice that it intends to be a definite title contender in the Nebraska College Conference this season by rolling to a 65-58 victory over Doane for the championship of the NAIA Tip-Off basketball tournament at Pershing Auditorium Wednesday night.

The triumph in this first annual pre-season tourney which matches District 11 NAIA clubs—this year's lineup included 6 NCC teams—gave the Plainsmen a 2-0 mark for the young season and stamped them as one of the best in the NCC.

Midland, tied for the cellar in the NCC last year, polished off seeded Kearney 71-65 for 3rd place and Dana blasted Concordia 68-53 for 5th in the other final round games Wednesday night.

Stoehr Helps

Wesleyan's victory in the championship tilt was accomplished chiefly through the shooting efforts of Rudy Stoehr and Bob Eberspacher and a superior rebounding corps.

Doane, playing without offensive ace George Davenport who suffered a chipped hip in the tourney's semi-finals and will be out of action from 4 to 6 weeks, made a contest of it in the early going, but lagged far behind most of the way.

Tigers Led Once

The Tigers, the tourney's surprise finalist, led only once after center Noyes Rivers clicked on 4 straight shots to send Doane ahead 19-17 with 7 minutes to go in the first half.

Dick Anderson added another bucket for the Tigers, but then Stoehr hit on 7 straight points to send the Plainsmen ahead for good. Wesleyan enjoyed a 32-24 halftime advantage.

Jack Huck opened the second half with 4 points to cut the margin to 32-28, but Wesleyan hit for 14 straight markers and a 46-28 lead, opening the gates to a walkaway.

Stoehr hit 22 points to lead the scoring while Eberspacher added 14 for the Plainsmen. Max Horst's 12 was the best Doane effort.

Groves Hits 27

Midland's unexpected victory over Kearney in the battle for 3rd place was featured by the shooting of sophomore Denny Groves, who hit for 27 points—high for the tournament.

The Warriors perked up after a slow start to make their triumph a convincing one. Kearney roared off to an 11-5 lead in the opening minutes as Gary Smidt dropped in 10 straight tallies, but Midland retaliated behind Groves' shooting and gained a 39-29 halftime margin. Groves hit 18 points in the first half.

The Warriors built leads as high as 16 and 17 points in the second half and then withstood an Antelope surge in the final 5 minutes.

Groves' scoring efforts were helped along by 11 points each by Wayne Witcher and 6-6 Del Blank, who also hauled down most of the Warrior rebounds. Smidt's 16 points were high for Kearney as Paul Collison and Harry Boss each added 12.

Dana Rallies

Dana overcame a 29-24 halftime deficit to handle Concordia in the consolation tilt. Dick Jensen hit 12 points, Ernie Anderson 11 and Ron Huston 10 in a big final half as the Vikings pulled away.

Attendance for the final round action was 750, bringing the 3-night total to nearly

4 WL Teams Join Three-I

Lincoln, Topeka, Des Moines, Sioux City Are Accepted

Lincoln Star Special

Washington, D.C.—Lincoln, Topeka, Sioux City and Des Moines were officially voted into the Three-I League here Wednesday night.

The 4 cities formerly were members of the Western League which is being disbanded.

They will form the west half of the Class B league with Cedar Rapids, Ia., Burlington, Ia., Green Bay, Wis., and Appleton, Wis., in the east half.

"We are very happy we have been able to take in 4 such fine towns," President Hal Totten, of the 3-I League said. "It also is a tribute to our directors that they could overcome the many obstacles to emerge with a much stronger league."

The 4 Western League towns agreed to make compensation for the additional travel the 4 eastern teams will encounter.

All But Topeka

All the teams but Topeka have already lined-up working agreements. Topeka is huddling with the St. Louis Cardinals and an agreement may be readied soon.

Totten said only a meeting to draft a 1959 schedule remains. This will be done in two or 3 weeks.

The final line-up was reached when Davenport, Ia. and Winona, Minn., members last year, dropped out of the 3-I. Davenport was owned outright by the Chicago White Sox and declined a locally owned operation when the Sox moved to Lincoln.

Winona Fails

Winona was unable to gain a working agreement and will probably enter the Class C Northern League.

A. Q. Schimmel and Vaulx Risser, Lincoln representatives, met with officials of the Chicago White Sox Wednesday to iron out final details on the Chiefs' new working agreement.

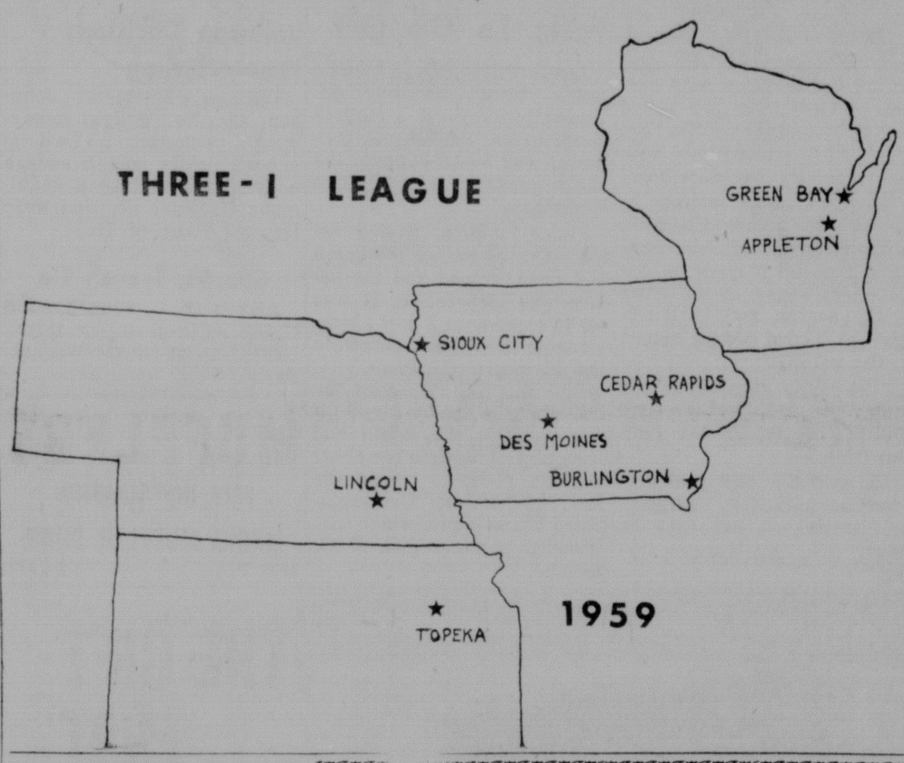
New Manager

Glen Miller, Sox farm director, said a field manager for Lincoln will probably be named within a month.

Lincoln will hold spring training at Hollywood, Fla., along with the other 5 White Sox farm clubs—Indianapolis (American Association, AAA), Charleston, S.C. (Sally League, A), Duluth-Superior (Northern, C), Clinton, Ia. (Midwest, D) and Holdrege (Nebraska State League, D).

Hal Totten, president of the Three-I, said the league will probably open about May 1 and will play 126 games.

Schimmel and Risser were busy Wednesday interviewing candidates for the business manager's job at Lincoln, vacated when Dick Wagner took over as manager of Pershing Auditorium.



Pitt Ace Scores 41

Pittsburgh (AP) — All-American Don Hennon, a 5-8½ sharpshooter, put on a superlative performance and scored 41 points to lead Pitt to a 73-70 basketball victory over Ohio State.

Missouri Wins In Overtime

Columbia, Mo. (AP) — Sophomore Charles Henke's 6 points in overtime gave the Missouri Tigers a 74-71 basketball victory over the Arkansas Razorbacks.

The 6-7 youngster from Malta Bend, Mo., shared scoring honors for the game with teammate Al Bram. Each hit 18 points. And Henke was the game's leading rebounder, as well, with 20 captures off the backboards.

TEXAS TECH OUTSCORES OKLAHOMA

Norman, Okla. (AP)—A second half surge carried the Texas Tech Red Raiders to a 73-64 victory over Oklahoma here.

(Texas Tech visits Lincoln Dec. 15 for a non-conference game with Coach Jerry Bush's Nebraska team).

Tech led by only a single point at the half, and the scrappy Sooners managed to knot the count at 40-40 5 minutes into the second half.

At that point the veteran Tech quintet went on a point-making rampage and rolled to a 64-50 lead that doomed the Sooners in their first start this season.

The Sooners battled back in the final minutes and scored 8 points in a row during a 90-second span, closing the gap to 6 points. But a stalling game by Tech stopped their desperation bid.

Bill Heidebrecht led Oklahoma with 17 points, while Roger Potts got 13 and Bob Stoermer 11.

Tech hit 41 per cent of its field goal attempts compared to the Sooners' 29 per cent.

With Al Beebe

Star Sports Staff Writer

Watching Dick Tushla at Auburn toss in 31 points in his 1958-59 basketball debut the other night reminded me that there is a good supply of returning All-State players this year.

Tushla, whose Tuesday night output helped beat Nebraska City, 76-69, earned Class B All-State and All-Tourney honors in the Sunday Journal and Star a year ago. He looks as if he means to take up where he left off.

Tushla can score with a variety of shots, is a fine defensive player, and grabs plenty of rebounds from his 5-11 height. He is the big reason Auburn Coach Bob Davis commented, "We'll win a few this year."

Tushla has help, however, from 6-2 Larry Hayes, 6-1 Kent Wallace, and 5-7 Gary Dalton. They'll do a lot to make Auburn a strong Class B contender again.

Tushla is one of 18 players back this year who were either named to all-state, all-tourney, or honorable mention.

Topping the list is Omaha Holy Name's big Bob Eickholt, All-State and All-Tourney last season. Big Bob will be expected to make the Ramblers a contender again, despite the fact that most of his help from last year is gone.

The only Class AA returnee is John Nared, a junior now at Omaha Central. Nared made the All-Tourney squad and the honor roll in Class AA All-State.

In addition to Tushla, Class B has junior Roger Denesia of Wayne back from All-State. Sam Sample of Fullerton and Bruce Christensen of Minden were All-Tourney and All-State honor roll, while Bruce McCoy of Tecumseh made the honor list.

No Class C All-Staters are back, but Jim Chaulk and Bill Meisenbach of Hastings St. Cecilia and Tom Colwell of Pawnee City were on the All-Tourney, while Meisenbach, Colwell, Kevin Colwell of Spalding Academy, and Chadron Prep's Dick Muma all made the honor list.

Coach Fred Winter of Pawnee City, by the way, told me at Auburn that he thought his team would be at least as good as last year's state tourney squad, despite the transfer of 6-4 Elmer Jackson to Hastings.

Of Colwell, a little sparkplug guard, Winter says.

"We can't defense against him, I don't see how anyone else will be able to."

Al Semin of Ulysses made the Class D All-Tourney, and was also on the honor roll along with Marvin Teel of Red Willow and Mark Cordes, also of Ulysses. Those two should make Ulysses a strong contender again.

The top Class E player looks to be 6-5 Bill Holliday of Wilsonville, who made both All-State and All-Tourney as a sophomore last year. Don Nowak of Elba and Charles Hellerich of Raymond, just a sophomore this year, were both on the tournament team and the honor roster.

It isn't likely that all of these players will make the star teams again. Many times, an All-State player doesn't come up to his previous performance a second time around.

But these will be worth watching.

Phils Swap Sanford For Giants' Gomez, Thomas

Washington (AP)— The San Francisco Giants Wednesday traded pitcher Ruben Gomez and catcher Valmy Thomas to the Philadelphia Phillies for pitcher Jack Sanford.

It was a straight player deal with no money involved.

Gomez, Puerto Rican righthander, had a 10-12 record with the Giants last season as compared with righthander Sanford's 10-13. Thomas, a batterymate of Gomez' with the Santurce Club of the Puerto Rico Winter League, batted .259 in 63 games.

Sanford broke in brilliantly with the Phillies in 1957, winning 19 while losing only 8 to gain rookie of the Year honors. He is 29. Gomez, 31, has been a brilliant pitcher at times. He got off to a fine start last season but tailed off considerably and finished with a mediocre 4.37 earned run average.

Below Par

Sanford, too, enjoyed a subpar season in 1958. His strikeout total fell off from a league leading 188 to 106 and his ERA figures soared from 3.08 to 4.45.

Sanford came up briefly in 1956—after his return from service—and was a rookie sensation in 1957. The hard-throwing righthander had spent his entire career in the Phillie organization, toiling for 8 years before he made the grade.

Cage, Grid Changes Determined

. . . At Meeting Tonight

Proposed changes in the basketball classification and in the starting dates for football will highlight the meeting of the Nebraska School Activities Assn. Representative Assembly here tonight.

The meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce building at 7:30.

On the agenda is a proposal to discuss combining Classes D and E in basketball, with an eye to eliminating long travel for some teams to district playoffs. The same representation in the state tourney would be retained, meaning 8 teams in the lowest class at the state tourney, compared to 4 in the others.

No Action

The Legislative Commission, which met last month to discuss proposals and prepare the agenda, recommended discussion but not action on the proposal.

Class E continues to grow smaller, with slightly over 100 teams in the class this year. The fewer the teams in a class, the more likely long-distance travel to playoffs becomes.

The football date proposal would start practice on the 4th Monday in August, with first games on the 3rd Friday following. The current rule allows practice the Monday preceding Labor Day, with games the second Friday after Labor Day.

Week Later

Under the present setup, the first games would not be played until Sept. 18 next year, a week later than this season. Over the years, the date works back up a week, then jumps back to the later date.

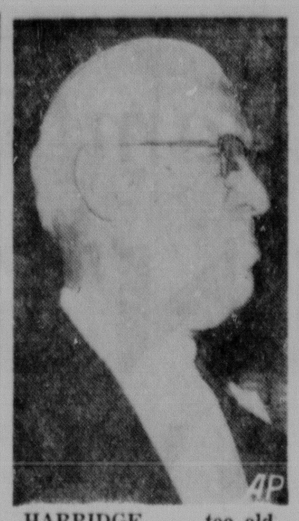
Objections to the present plan are that this eliminates a good-weather date in early September, and that this gives out-of-state teams, who usually start earlier, an extra week's jump on Nebraska teams.

Retain System

The Legislative Commission recommended that the present system be retained, but that executive secretary C. C. Thompson have authority to grant exceptions to teams playing two-thirds of its games out-of-state, providing its first game is with a school having earlier practice.

Other items on the agenda include other activities of the NSAA, such as music, debate, etc. Other proposals may also be made from the floor.

Of the 61 football players on the University of Oklahoma team this year, 42 were captains of high school teams.



HARRIDGE . . . too old.

AL Prexy Harridge Quits

Washington (AP)—Stately, 72-year-old Will Harridge resigned Wednesday as president of the American League. He said baseball in its troubled times needs younger men.

Speculation arose immediately as to who would take over the post the white-haired Harridge vacated without advance public notice.

It was reliably learned the American League owners already were favoring Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox, but a screening committee of 6 was appointed.

Other candidates mentioned included Bill DeWitt, administrator of the major league's $500,000 fund; Frank Lane, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, and Earl Hilligan, assistant to Harridge.

The next A. L. president, who will be the 4th in the 55-year-old history of the circuit, is not expected to be named for at least 3 to 4 weeks. In the meantime, Harridge continues to preside over the league meetings here.

Giles Re-elected

The National League, at its meeting, re-elected Warren Giles president. They gave the 62-year-old Cincinnatian a 5 year contract.

Giles, former president of the Redlegs, has been head of the league since September 1951. He succeeded Ford Frick when the latter was elected baseball commissioner. Giles' old contract was not due to expire until December 1959.

Harridge said advanced age was the only reason he is retiring after 47 years with the American League, the last 28 as president.

"I felt the American League should have the opportunity of bringing in a younger and more energetic man to handle the problems confronting it," Harridge said. "The American League, and all baseball, for that matter, has some serious problems. My retirement will give them the benefit of new thinking and a younger man who can do a better job than I can."

Asked what he regarded as baseball's most serious problems, Harridge deliberated a while before replying.

"The player situation is a very serious one and needs careful attention," he said, referring to the recent player demands to be cut in on the owners' revenue.

Minors Rebuff Yanks' Proposal For Draft

Washington (AP) — Baseball's minor leagues Wednesday adopted a watered-down version of the unrestricted player draft, offered by the farm system of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The compromise was adopted after the minors had rebuffed the New York Yankees by rejecting a proposal made through their Binghampton, N.Y., farm of the Eastern League, to restore the bonus rule. But the minors also voted down a proposal by a powerful major-minor committee that might have jeopardized the whole farm system.

The new plan will not go into operation unless it is okayed by the majors at their joint meeting later in the week. This may turn on a tie-breaking vote by Commissioner Ford Frick if the majors are divided. Frick has favored the unrestricted draft all the way.

St. Paul Plan

The new legislation, known as the St. Paul Proposition, was adopted by a 20-4 vote at the closed session of the National Association (minors). Its sponsor was Fresco Thompson, Dodger vice president and farm director.

In simple terms, the St. Paul plan permits the draft of any first year player at the end of his first season unless he has been advanced to a major league roster. If the player is not drafted in the first year, he then is ineligible for selection until he has completed the normal draft period. This period varies from two to 4 years depending on the classification of the league in which he is playing.

Under the current system, nobody can touch a promising player for 4 years if he has been moved up the minor league system ladder to Triple A.

LeBARON SAYS HE MAY QUIT PRO LEAGUE IN '60

Washington, (AP)—Eddie LeBaron, the Washington Redskins' mite of a quarterback, is giving serious thought to quitting pro football after another season. But, say his boss and coach, don't bet on it.

LeBaron, smallest competitor in the National Football League at 5-7 and 161 pounds, has said right along he probably will retire for a law career in 1960.

George Preston Marshall, Redskin president and a LeBaron admirer, said he knew no more than that the little fellow planned to play next year. Coach Joe Kuharich, just as hopefully, observed that many a pro talks of quitting after one more year and then shows up at training camp the following summer.

LeBaron receives his law degree from George Washington University next June. He has opportunities to join firms here, in New York and on the West Coast. He wants to specialize in corporation and tax law.

LeBaron's percentage of 56.3 is second only to 49er John Brodie's 59.2.

Jennings: Step In Right Direction

Omaha (UPI) — University of Nebraska Football Coach Bill Jennings said football at the Cornhusker school was progressing "a little" but he said, "certainly we are not setting the world on fire."

Jennings, in an address to the Omaha Junior Chamber of Commerce, said there were more than 70 players on the freshman squad at the close of the season and 17 lettermen he hoped would return to the varsity.

"It's not a great freshman team," he said, "but it's good and it's a step in the right direction."

He said the 1958 grid season was marked by "a thousand mistakes" but said he never felt "we weren't trying."

Bomb Set Under Cheerer's Stand Fails To Go Off

Los Angeles (UPI)—A home made bomb, possibly intended to go off at a football game in the 100,000-seat coliseum, was found beneath the cheer leader's platform Wednesday.

Police said a device intended to discharge the bomb had been tripped and the device was inoperative. It was set to explode at 2 p.m., kick-off time for college games in the Memorial Coliseum.

Det. Lt. Bill Porter of the University Division said it was possible the bomb had been placed beneath the cheer leader's platform before the Nov. 28 Southern California-Notre Dame game, which was attended by more than 60,000 persons,

Army's Novogratz 'Lineman Of Week'

West Point, N.Y. (AP) — Army's Bob Novogratz had his finest hour in the game he wanted to win above all others in an illustrious football career.

For his stirring play in the big one, the 22-6 victory over Navy, the strapping senior guard Wednesday was named "Lineman of the Week" by the Associated Press.

"This is really good news," said Novogratz. "It's a great way for me personally to sign off a most satisfactory season."

It was a big thrill, too, for Bill Gunloch, the Army's offensive line coach.

"Bob must be the finest all-around guard in football," said Gunloch. "His blocking as graded in the films approximated 85 per cent all season, which is phenomenal.

138 Tackles

"As a linebacker, he made 138 tackles, 18 of them against Navy which ranked as his best effort all season. He is well deserving of the honor."

Besides the tackling and blocking, Novogratz recovered 3 fumbles in the service classic. His recovery of one of the fumbles by teammate Bob Anderson, the backfield star that cold day, on the Navy 24 kept alive Army's second touchdown drive.

San Francisco fans and television viewers of the nation will get a chance to see the 21-year old rock of Northampton, Pa., in action in the East-West Shrine game Dec. 27.

Mississippi QB Is Back Of Week

Bobby Franklin, the nimble quarterback who clinched Mississippi's place in the Gator Bowl, Wednesday was named college football's Back of the Week by the Associated Press.

The 5-10, 169-pound junior from Clarksdale, Miss., handled most of the offensive in a second quarter splurge last Saturday that enabled Ole Miss to whip arch-foe Mississippi State, 21-0.

Three of the 4 quarters of the game were scoreless but in the 15 minutes of the second period, Franklin clinched the Mississippi victory by passing for two touchdowns and scoring a 3rd himself.

—Research Project Set Up—

Joint Group To Study Indians' Law Problems

...Tribal, Thurston County Officials Will Do Job

Lincoln Star Special

Walthill, Neb.—A conference on law enforcement on Nebraska's Indian reservations late Wednesday voted to set up a joint committee of tribal and Thurston County officials to do research on the problem and report back to a second conference early next year.

The committee, which will include representatives of the Omaha and Winnebago Tribes, will employ a University of Nebraska student for the research project on economic and other problems of law enforcement in the area.

Funds for the project will come from 'We Shake Hands,' a human relations project now under way on the two reservations which is described as "an action to encourage neighborly relations between Indians and their fellow citizens."

The two-day conference is discussing the problems which resulted from withdrawal of federal law enforcement in 1953 after passage of Public Law 280.

The conference, including representatives of the state, Thurston County, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the Association of American Indian Affairs and the Tribal Council, will last through Thursday.

Lt. Elmer Schroeder of the Nebraska Safety Patrol, representing Gov. Victor Anderson, offered a statement to the opening session pledging Nebraska to help provide law enforcement in the Omaha and Winnebago Indian Reservations in Thurston County provided the tribes and the county present a coordinated request and make a coordinated effort of their own to correct the basic conditions which cause lawlessness.

This conference was called to determine where financial responsibilities lie for providing law enforcement.

The tribes contend that as citizens and as payers of more than $50,000 annually in real estate taxes, they are entitled to community peace the same as is enjoyed by non-Indian municipalities.

Philip Sorensen of the University of Nebraska College of Law declared that the state of Nebraska and Thurston County consented to the transfer of the responsibilities of reservation law enforcement to themselves.

County Judge Charles Boughn of Pender took exception, declaring that the Federal government had legislated away its own responsibilities without the consent of the local governing bodies.

"The Congress of the United States had the power to legislate without the consent of those affected," commented LaVerne Madigan of New York, executive director of the Association on American Indian Affairs," and there is probably no way back. I can understand why violations of this principle of government by the consent of the governed shocked Judge Boughn. White people are not used to that. It is different with Indians. They have always been governed by the United States through the Bureau of Indian Affairs without regard to that principle, sacred, taken for granted by other Americans."

Nebraska News

Sorensen Named Grand High Priest

Omaha (AP)—E. J. Sorensen of Alliance became grand high priest of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Nebraska Wednesday.

He received his ceremonial apron from Louis J. Sylvester of Omaha, the outgoing priest.

The Royal Arch Masons were one of the number of Masonic groups meeting in Omaha this week.

Brock Hopes For House Interior Committee Post

Wakefield, Neb. (AP) — Rep. Lawrence Brock will seek a seat on the House Interior and Insular Committee where he hopes to be able to induce committee members to approve more than one power line from Fort Randall Dam in South Dakota into Nebraska.

One such line, to be built by the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative via a federal loan, has been approved by the Rural Electrification Administration. The line would run to Columbus.

Brock said he would like to see a double line from Fort Randall with the government financing both lines as far as the Nebraska border. Eventually, he said, the double line could be run into Columbus and then on to Grand Island.

He will, he added, seek to get Congress to reimburse the loan of approximately $4,900,000 to Nebraska Cooperative for the now approved line.

2 School Bond Issues Go On Norfolk Ballot

Norfolk, Neb. (AP) — Norfolk, which hasn't had a school bond issue since 1932, on Jan. 27 will vote on two bond issues. One is $300,000 for the public schools, and the other, $90,000, for the junior college.

The public schools bond issue would be used to construct a new 8-room grade school building and add two stories to the band room at the senior high school structure.

If the $90,000 issue carries, a science building will be erected for the junior college, which now takes care of 325 students in one building.

Norfolk hasn't had a school bond debt since 1946, or a city bond debt since 1957.

Calcutta (AP)—A Himalayan source reports the Khamba tribesmen of eastern Tibet are fighting a guerrilla campaign against Red China transport convoys. The source said the Khambas accepted Red rule for a time but no more.

Dundy County Agent Resigns Post To Accept Federal Work In Korea

Benkelman, Neb.—Leo Barnell, who has served as Dundy County extension agent for the past 17 years, has resigned to enter foreign service for the government.

Barnell

Barnell has accepted a position with the International Co-operation Administration which functions under the Department of State. His assignment will be Kwangju, South Korea, where he will be an extension advisor and will reside at Seoul, South Korea. His work will be in the fruit and agricultural section of South Korea.

His resignation brings the first break in his 25 years of service as an extension agent during which he has received several honors. In 1956 he was given the Department of Agriculture's award for superior service.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska in 1926, he served as vocational agriculture teacher in the Randolph and Kimball public schools before entering extension work as a county agent in Garden County in 1933. He served there until 1941 when he moved to his present post in Dundy County.

His resignation is to take effect Jan. 4 with the extension service from which he has been granted a year's leave of absence with option to extend it to two years.

Rebel Arms Seized

Nicosia (AP)—British security forces on Cyprus report they captured more rebel arms in November than in any two previous months put together.

See Clearly Before You Buy!

Don't be blinded by high pressure, cut prices and misleading advertising. SEE CLEARLY before you buy . . . BUY AMANA—A guarantee that will insure you of 20-20 vision when you make your selection . . . Come in and see Amana's 20-20 superiority.

Facts from . . .

United States Department of Agriculture. Research bulletin ARS-74-0

AN ERRONEOUS ASSUMPTION IS THIS: THAT a cold and hard package of frozen food is adequately protected against loss of PRIME QUALITY. All chemical reactions that result in loss of quality ACCELERATE as temperatures rise from 0 degrees F. or lower level. At 15 degrees F., these changes occur SEVERAL TIMES AS FAST AS AT 0 DEGREE F.—and at 25 degrees to 30 degrees several times as fast as at 15 degrees F. BUT MOST PRODUCTS ARE HARD AT 20 degrees to minus 25 degrees F. and lower.

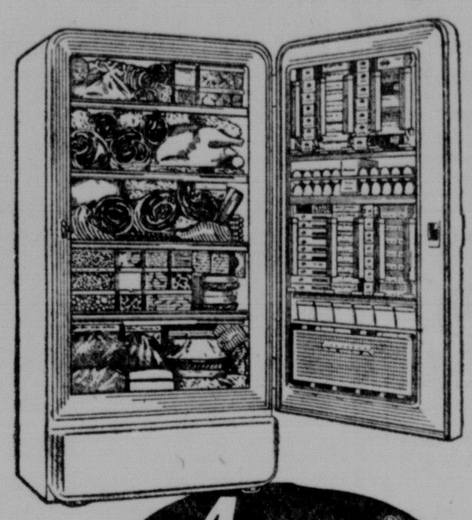
Vegetables

Loss of chlorophyll (green pigment) and vitamin C are useful measures of loss of quality. In effectively blanched green beans, chlorophyll is lost at the rate of about 10% per year at 0 degree F., which is NOT SEVERE. At 10 degree F. however, THIS RATE TRIPLES. At 20 degrees it is 16 TIMES and at 30 degrees F. 60 TIMES AS FAST AS AT 0 Degree F.

Fruits

Fruits contain important amounts of vitamin C (ascorbic acid). Top quality strawberries contain more than orange juice. Frozen peaches are frequently packed with added ascrobic acid to retard browning. TEMPERATURE ABUSE CAUSE LOSS OF THIS VITAMIN.

3 DAYS ONLY!



Amana Stor-Mor FOOD FREEZERS

PROTECT Your Food From TEMPERATURE DAMAGE

Facts From . . . Amana

Amana maintains even 0 degree temperature because Amana has 6 "fast" freezing shelves of solid aluminum with the cold coils brazened to each. All foods are either directly in contact with, or directly below these "Fast Freezing" shelves. Amana reaches and maintains 0 degree (F) temperature thus protecting your frozen foods from TEMPERATURE DAMAGE.

AMANA HAS UNIFORM FOOD STORAGE TEMPERATURE—many other freezers have long running cycles which indicate lack of freezing capacity and allows for wide FLUCTUATION of food temperatures in each cycle. AMANA RUNS LESS and therefore, food temperature remains CONSTANT at 0 degree F. By running less, you can expect more years of service.

Amana insures "locked-in" nutritional values because of the even zero degree temperature throughout Amana. THERE IS NO FLUCTUATION IN FOOD TEMPERATURE TO ALLOW FOOD TO THAW AND RE-FREEZE. AS A RESULT ALL FOODS KEEP THEIR NATURAL COLOR AND FULL NUTRITIONAL VALUE.

"EVEN ZERO TEMPERATURE IS THE KEY TO SAFE FOOD PRESERVATION."

FREE $50.00 WORTH OF CHRISTMAS GIFTS WITH EACH AMANA SOLD DURING THIS EVENT

SAVE 2 WAYS WITH AN Amana Stor-Mor FOOD FREEZERS

1 Even zero temperature is the key to safe food preservation . . . Amana's reserve power and efficiency brings temperature down to 0 degree F. faster and safer than all others tested. Because Amana is engineered, designed and built to be a fine food freezer . . . not just a holding cabinet that feels cold.

2 Save on meal preparation time with easy to cook frozen foods . . . save on food costs with seasonal foods in season or by taking advantage of special sale priced foods . . . you'll find that these savings will in time completely pay for for the freezer itself.

TWA Strike Is Settled

Labor Trouble Still Plagues Other Lines

By The Associated Press

The 13-day strike of machinists against Trans World Airlines was tentatively settled Wednesday, but other segments of the industry remained in a turmoil of labor disputes.

The 6,500 members of the International Assn. of Machinists still must ratify the TWA agreement, but the airline began calling back the 12,000 other employes it laid off during the walkout.

TWA set 12:01 a.m. Monday as the target for resuming its flights here and abroad.

Stalemate At Eastern

In Miami, negotiations between Eastern Air Lines and striking flight engineers appeared to be in a stalemate.

Eastern planes have been grounded for 10 days.

American Airlines, threatened by a strike of the Airline Pilots Assn., has asked a federal court for a permanent injunction against a walkout.

There were no developments in a dispute between Pan American World Airways and the Transport Workers Union. The union has promised that it won't interfere with Pan American operations while its contract demands are being mediated.

Jaycees Launch Safety-Spacer Use Campaign

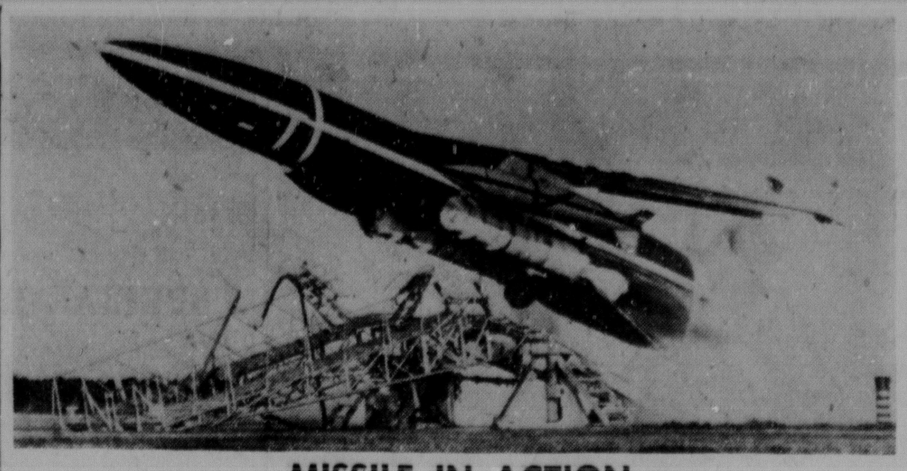
Wednesday marked the opening of the highway Safety-Spacer program sponsored by the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The highway Safety-Spacer is a white reflecting reflective bumper sticker, designed to help drivers judge their distance behind vehicles and to prevent rear-end collisions with stalled or slow-moving cars.

On the sticker are specially designed blue vertical lines which are spaced so that they will appear to be solid blue space at 300 feet or more.

At a distance of less than 300 feet, the solid blue becomes two definite vertical lines. A second set of lines appear at 150 feet and another at 75 feet.

The stickers are available at all Lincoln banks and the Jaycee office for 50 cents.



MISSILE IN ACTION

The Snark missile, an 8-foot model of which is on display at the Lincoln Air Force Base, is shown here taking off. Lt. Col. Max J. Sanny, chief of the intermediate range ballistic missile branch at SAC headquarters in Omaha, will explain the weapon in a talk before the regular meeting of the Lincoln Air Force Assn. Thursday evening at 6:30.

SAC Missile Expert To Speak Here

Lt. Col. Max J. Sanny, chief of the intermediate range ballistic branch, missile division at SAC headquarters in Omaha, will be the featured speaker at a dinner meeting of the Air Force Association Thursday at the Lincoln Air Force Base Officer's Club.

Over 200 members and guests are expected for the 6:30 dinner.

Col. Sanny will supplement his talk to the members of the Lincoln AFA squadron with films on the Atlas and Jupiter missiles.

He will also explain the Snark missile, an 8-foot model of which will be on display at the meeting.

The AFA consists of Lincoln civic leaders and LAFB officers.

Our Lady School Had Alarm System

Chicago (AP)—Our Lady of the Angels school, where 87 children and 3 nuns died in a fire Monday, was equipped with an alarm system.

Father Charles Hund, assistant pastor, said Wednesday the system used buttons on the activating end and buzzers on the other.

He said a lay teacher pressed one of the buttons Monday and the buzzers gave a warning that sounds like a fog horn.

Father Joseph Ognibene, another assistant to the pastor who drove up shortly after the fire began, said he saw children marching out and his first impression was that they were participating in a fire drill.

Can't Refuse

Bonn, Germany (AP) — West German soldiers cannot refuse to fire atomic weapons even if they disapprove of nuclear warfare, the Defense Ministry said.

The ministry acted to settle an argument between Socialists and the Army Chief of Staff Lt. Gen. Hans Roettiger.

The Bundeswehr has no A-weapons now, but the Socialists argued that German soldiers have the right to refuse to fire them if they are supplied.

2 Workers Dead In Ditch Cavein

San Antonio, Tex. (AP) — At least two workmen died and 4 others suffered injury in a collapse of a city drainage project in northwest San Antonio Wednesday.

Reporters at the scene identified the dead as Mariano Luna and Santiago Ortezeous.

The men were in a 15-foot-deep drainage ditch. Six to 8 inches of earth fell on top of them.

U.S. Worried By Iraq Red Leanings

Washington (AP) — The State Department was reported Wednesday to be deeply concerned about the possibility that Iraq may be aligning itself with the Soviet bloc. But Iraq has not yet been written off as a Western ally.

Officials said they do not know whether Iraq—still technically a member of the Baghdad Pact—has actually shifted sides. They have been unable to get clear cut answers to inquiries about Premier Abdel Kerim Kassim's foreign policy.

State Department press officer Lincoln White told a news conference Iraq has not formally denounced the anti-Communist Baghdad treaty, to which Britain, Pakistan, Iran and Turkey belong.

Blame Leveled

Paris (AP)—Drinking is responsible for half of the traffic accidents in France, a report to the Academy of Medicine said.

There were 145,000 traffic accidents in France last year and more than 8,000 were killed.

Five Russian Rectors Due Here Today

Five Russian University rectors are scheduled to arrive in Lincoln Thursday afternoon for a 3-day tour of governmental and educational facilities.

The tour, financed and requested by the U.S. Department of State, is an exchange visit to the U.S. Earlier, a group of American educators toured Russian facilities.

The Russian educators, all natural scientists are: Gagik S. Davtyan, Erevan State University; Fedor D. Klement, Tartu State University; Sergey I. Lebedev, Odessa State University; Roman V. Mertslin, Saratov State University; and Viktor Y. Rogov, Irkutsk State University.

To Visit Hardin

Upon their arrival in Lincoln, they will visit Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin of the University of Nebraska and the University Library. Friday morning, the group will tour the State Capitol, including a visit to the State Department of Education. In the afternoon, the Russians will visit the University's city and agricultural campuses.

On Saturday, the group will tour state museums and visit the University Extension Division. In the afternoon, they will visit a farm near Ashland.

The Russians will leave by train early Sunday for San Francisco.

Purebred Cattle, Quarter Horse Die In Flames

Fort Calhoun, Neb. (AP)—Four purebred Angus yearling cattle and a quarter horse died in a fire which destroyed a 2½ story barn on the Jesse Thurmond farm near here.

The cattle were of a herd of nearly 20 which had access to the open-doored barn from an adjoining feedlot. Thurmond said they were to have been offered for sale Dec. 11.

The horse was trapped in its stall.

Happy-Go-Lucky

Chicago (UPI)—Human beings have no monopoly on tranquilizers. Livestock marketers are using a potent version of the so-called "happy pills" to calm the nerves of cattle during shipment and thus cut down on the rate of weight loss occurring in the animals.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

In Teramo, Italy this week, the subject of love came up. I mention this because love is getting a lot of attention these days and I do not want to lose out—like I did on hula hoops.

Anyway the lover boys of Teramo were Mr. Nicolas di Battista and Mr. Lucio Caserta.

They were in love with a schoolteacher. (Like a western movie, isn't it?)

They did not go after each other in the Western style, however. Like, "Draw, di Battista! I reckon Teramo is not big enough for both of us."

No. They decided to EAT it out. Ecco!

As a starter, di Battista ate three plates of spaghetti. Sphaghetti is a warmer-up in an old-fashioned Italian eat-out.

Mr. Caserta immediately ate three plates of spaghetti AND one roasted chicken.

Mr. di Battista ate a chicken, too. He wiped his face and polished off 10 hard-boiled eggs.

Caserta saw the eggs and both then ate 20 sausages and plate of cakes.

They then settled down and ate 15 steaks.

Di Battista won by finishing his sixteenth steak. Caserta having stopped popeyed on number 15.

The schoolma'am topped the whole show by refusing to marry either of them. She said she did not want to spend the rest of her life cooking for such a tiger.

Well it just shows the curious ways of love. Thousands and thousands of girls are raised on the old saw, "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

Along come a pair of Italian lovers. To prove that the way to their stomachs is through their hearts.

Such odd actions of love make it very difficult for an intelligent girl. If they keep changing the rules, how can you make the point after touchdown?

Love is becoming a most scientific project. You can scarcely pick up a paper or magazine without finding love analyzed and capsuled.

Even the mechanical brains have had a whack at the business.

In a TV show, UNIVAC was put to work. It chewed up statistics and it thought and thought. That is, it took the statistics of ladies and gentlemen. After it thought about them, it gave answers which lady should marry which gent.

The TV people then brought the lucky couple together in front of the camera.

"You love each other?" they asked curiously. "You should, you know."

Out of hundreds and hundrends, they finally got one couple married.

Busy Acres

Washington (UPI) — For the first time in this century we are growing timber faster in the U.S. than we are removing it from forests, according to John B. Veach, president of American Forest Products Industries. The AFPI is sponsoring a "Busy Acres" program to assist farmers in putting their idle lands to work growing trees to accelerate tree growth in the nation.

Woman, 77, Lay Helpless 5 Days Before Aid Came

Omaha (AP)—A 77-yera-old Omaha woman, is recovering from the harrowing experience of lying helpless on a floor for nearly 5 days.

She is Mrs. Carmella Cosentino, widow of an Omaha musician, Pietro Cosentino.

Sam Piccolo, a nephew, said neighbors had knocked on her door but got no answer so they called the rescue squad. He said after Mrs. Cosentino's rescue she told him she had been on the floor since Friday, unable to summon help. She had apparently fallen.

It was first thought she had suffered a fractured leg, but hospital officials said an X-ray examination showed no breaks.

Sidney Man Staunch Believer In TB Treatment

Lincoln-Star Special

Sidney, Neb.—A 75-year-old Sidney man gives a strong testimonial in behalf of the sale of tuberculosis seals.

He is Joseph G. Tully, who at the age of 73 found he had a severe case of TB. He entered the state hospital for tuberculosis at Kearney on June 22, 1956, weighing only 106 pounds—or "in plenty bad shape" as Tully puts it.

Fourteen months later, weighing 161 and one-half pounds, he left the hospital a staunch believer in the TB treatment.

Dr. William Nutzen, chief surgeon at the hospital, said Tully's rapid recovery—which he termed "amazing" — was due to "co-operation."

Tully confirms this, adding that he "went in to get cured and did." He accused many who don't respond to the TB treatment as "cheaters," saying they listen to the doctors but don't follow recommended treatment.

He blamed the cause of his condition on "lack of rest and a poor diet."

With medication and rest, in 8 months Tully was known as a "negative." He was then allowed outdoors for exercise.

In 14 months he was dismissed—one of the earliest dismissals on record.

Tully gives credit to the hospital which he calls "the best institution in the state" with "an outstanding staff."

He also gives credit to the close watch over the patients and recreational and other facilities available.

Today, he walks 18 to 20 blocks daily to strengthen his lungs.

This fall he offered his services as a door-to-door vendor of Christmas seals but the county chairman of the drive said all were mailed by letter.

Instead, he drummed up a radio interview to plug the sale of TB seals. "It's a very worthy cause—and I know," he explains.

To other tubercular patients, Tully advises, "If a person goes to the hospital with the intention of getting cured, he can do it. If he doesn't, ordinarily it's his own fault."

Mr. Tully aids sale of TB seals.

Omahan Pleads Guilty To Slaying

Papillion, Neb. (AP)—A plea of guilty was entered in Sarpy County District Court Wednesday by Everett L. Landon, 30, Omaha, charged with second degree murder.

Landon admitted he killed his wife with a shotgun Oct. 19 in front of a South Omaha bar where she had worked.

Landon originally was charged with first degree murder but County Attorney Dixon Adams amended the charge, saying investigation had convinced him Landon could not be convicted of first degree murder.

U.S. Asks Long-Range Missile Bases Be Open To Inspection

Geneva (AP) — The United States proposed that the great powers ward off the danger of surprise attack by opening their long-range missile bases to international inspection.

The plan envisages setting up a cooperative, globe girdling warning system to supplement existing national alert arrangements.

U.S. delegate William C. Foster introduced the document with the support of Britain, France, Italy and Canada in the 10-nation conference on prevention of surprise attacks.

The 5 eastern participants —the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Albania—characterized the plan as meaningless. They gave no indication they would undertake a technical study of it as requested by the western side.

Most Difficult

Of all modern weapons, ballistic missiles are most difficult to guard against because of their speed from launching pad to target.

The basic idea of the American proposal is to increase the margin of minutes by aerial surveys and ground observation of missile launching pads and instantaneous reporting of firings by various scientific instruments.

If the system worked perfectly, any aggressor contemplating using missiles for a Pearl Harbor like blow might be deterred by the knowledge that he would receive a quick and heavy counterattack. The western powers believe this knowledge in itself will help keep world peace.

Soviet Gen. A. A. Gryzlov kept plugging the Russian line. He urged the conference to consider Soviet proposals for establishment of vast neutral zones in cenral Europe and the Middle East.

Welcome To Israel

Tel Aviv (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion told a rally that Israel took in 2,400 immigrants from 36 countries last month. This brought the 10-year total to 900,000, he pointed out.

'Grandma' Sticks Up N.Y. Bank

New York (AP) — A slender, graying little woman robbed a bank of $3,000 Wednesday after threatening to throw acid in a teller's face. She appeared to be in her 60s.

The woman picked one of the busiest corners in New York for the robbery. She stood patiently in line to deliver her threat, then marched calmly out of the bank past 3 armed guards and melted into a noontime throng of Christmas shoppers.

Throughout the holdup she spoke not a word.

Across From Macy's

The bank is a branch of the First National City at 34th St. and 7th Ave., across from Macy's big department store, a focal point for Christmas shoppers. It never had been robbed before.

The woman stood in line for some time at teller Louis Basile's cage. About 5 feet, 2 inches tall, she wore a brown cloth coat buttoned to her neck. Her brown hair was streaked with gray.

When her turn came, the woman wordlessly passed a brown paper bag to Basile and a note which read:

"I have acid in a glass and if you don't give me what I want I'll splash it on you. I have two men in here. I'll throw the acid in your face and somebody will get shot. Hurry!"

Leaves Alone

Police discounted the reference to accomplices. They said the woman came in alone and left alone.

To reinforce her threat, the woman held up a small vial of colorless liquid for Basile to see.

The 25-year-old teller stuffed some bills into a bag and passed it back to the woman. Carrying the bag and still clutching the vial, she walked out a 7th Ave. exit about 25 feet from Basile's cage.

Basile pressed an alarm as she left, but it came too late. The woman had vanished into the crowd on 7th Ave.

Oil, Gas Producers On School Lands Tax Rate Ruled

Oil and gas producers operating on school lands are required to pay ⅞ of the state's 2% severance tax on oil and gas production, rather than the full 2% required if operating on non-school land, according to an opinion from the attorney general.

The Board of Educational Lands and Funds had asked whether an oil company could deduct the 2% severance tax from the royalties it pays the Board from such production on school lands.

One company had followed this procedure which prompted the Board to seek the opinion.

According to the Attorney General's office, an oil company leasing mineral rights from a private landowner pays the full 2% severance tax to the state, but is allowed to deduct ⅛ of the tax from the royalties he pays the landowner.

The same principle applies to oil producers on school land, except that the ⅛ should not be deducted from the royalties paid, but on the original severance tax itself.

Service Station Robbers Hunted

Lincoln area lawmen are still searching for two unidentified men who robbed a service station south of Lincoln of about $188 Tuesday night.

The late-model Ford bearing Minnesota license plates the men reportedly were driving was seen shortly after the robbery in Beatrice, but police there lost the car. It has not been seen since.

The two men, one about 30 and the other between 18 and 20, slugged and robbed William Wunderlich of Roca at the Major Oil Service Station 8 miles south of Lincoln. Wunderlich, 68, was treated at a Lincoln hospital for a head gash which took 11 stitches to close.

Red Bulgaria Customers Get Trousers Of Different Leg Lengths . . . And Colors

By Carl Hartman

Budapest (AP)—Customers in Communist Bulgaria have been getting trousers with legs of different colors, and they don't like them.

Bulgaria is proud of the new central department store in Sofia, and the management seems to have been annoyed by recent criticisms that its service is not all it might be.

So the store held a show of some merchandise received from manufacturers, invited their representatives and salespeople, and at least one very sarcastic Communist reporter.

"Have you ever seen a man's pajama top with a pocket sewn on the back?" asked A. T. Tonchev in the government trade union daily Trud. "Or shirts in oil patterns, with iron singes? You haven't, but we did. We were greatly aided in this respect by the Aurora Artisans' Co-operative, which manufactured them.

"Do you know that trouser legs, which are supposed to be identical, may not only be of different lengths, but of different colors? What is more, that each leg may consist of two pieces of cloth of different design? If the trousers are finished in cloth torn at the factory or burnt in ironing, this gives a special effect.

"The merit for this novelty belongs to the Vitosha Enterprise, the Boika, Narmod and Zoya Tailoring Co-operatives.

"Their work is being happily supplemented by the interesting initiatives of the Vezmo and Rodina Co-operatives. Some of their master tailors are responsible for original suits with jackets in one cloth and trousers in another, and for jackets with lapels of different lengths, or holes.

"Great resourcefulness has been displayed by the Narmod people, who have made children's smocks with two left sleeves and their colleagues at Vistosha who attached mismated sleeves to a shirt . . .

"Should I tell you about the nails and wires in the mattresses of the Berimechkov Artisans' Co-operative, and their stuffing with its faint smell of carrion?"

The writer drops his sarcasm at the end and reports that the manufacturers received "a last warning."

Safety, School Officers To Study Fire Hazards

. . . Tax Rise Or Bond Issue Seen To Finance Need

Omaha (AP)—Fire safety and public school officials in Omaha will meet early next week to thresh out the problem of eliminating remaining fire hazards in schools, board president Virgil Sharpe said Wednesday.

The problem, highlighted by the tragic Chicago school fire, is whether the school board should spend from $10,000 to $125,000 per building to eliminate what fire inspectors call hazards in half of the city's 70 public schools.

If the answer is yes, Sharpe said that there is no other way to finance the program aside from a rise in taxes or a bond issue. "We can't take it away from teachers salaries; we can't tap the general operating fund and the 20-million-dollar bond issue is allocated," Sharpe said.

Hazards In 39

Of 39 buildings cited for fire hazards by the fire department, 21 were erected between 1888 and 1900. Only two of the other 18 were erected after 1917.

The prime objection of fire inspectors was the lack of fire and smoke screens in stair wells.

Warren Huff, director of school construction, said the cost of screens would be roughly $550,000.

Of 13 parochial schools cited for similar hazards by firemen, stations in 6 have been corrected, according to Msgr. Daniel Sheehan, archdioceasn chancellor.

Man Admits Slaying Girl During Spat

Pasadena, Cailf. (UPI)—A 31-year-old Highland Park, Calif., man confessed to the fatal stabbing of his beautiful blonde girl friend and led officers to the isolated spot where he dumped her body.

Gerald Feasby, arrested almost 12 hours after discovery of the body of 19-year-old Charlotte Lea Trosper. He said he beat and stabbed the girl, but said the slaying occurred during a lover's quarrel and that he did not intend to kill her.

The strawberry blonde model had been stabbed once through the left breast. Her body, clad in a black sheath dress and red undergarments, was found on a slope near the Angeles Crest Highway.

Identified

There was no identification at the scene. Her purse had been stripped of all identification, but her employer reported her missing and identified her.

A search was started for Feasby after reports that he had been quarreling with the girl and that she had told of being afraid of the man. He confessed to the slaying almost immediately after his arrest. He retraced his steps at the scene for police.

He said his girl friend of 3 years was stabbed in a struggle for the weapon as they quarreled in his car.

U.S. Doubts Red Satellite Still Orbiting

Cambridge, Mass. (AP)—Cautious scientists said Wednesday night that the enormous rocket which sent Russia's Sputnik III into orbit may have burned up in the earth's atmosphere.

Dr. John White, at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, said the evidence was purely negative. So far as known nobody saw the big tube, as long as a pullman car, flaring in a final hot plunge through the earth's dense atmosphere. But even so, scientists doubted it was still in flight.

Absence of any reports whatsoever on the rocket after observations during the forenoon tended to support predictions that this would be the last day of the rocket's life. The empty metal tube, hurtling around the earth in revolutions of less than an hour and a half, had been dragged steadily lower by the pull of the earth's gravity.

The astrophysicists had said that the rocket was expected to hit the denser part of the earth's atmosphere sometime Wednesday with terrific speed which would produce white heat, melting, vaporizing and burning the metal.

With the disappearance of the Sputnik III rocket, 4 manmade satellites will continue to circle the earth—3 American and one Russian.

Ex-Nebraskans' Child Burned In Chicago Tragedy

Chapman, Neb.—Word has been received here that Marie Hartman, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James "Bud" Hartman, of Chicago, formerly of Chapman, was critically burned in the Chicago school blaze.

A 5th grader at Our Lady of the Angels School, Marie suffered burns over her entire body.

Her sisters, Ramona, 8, and Kara, 7, who were also attending school at the time of the fire, escaped from the building with no injuries.

The girls are granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hartman of Chapman.

Terry Asks Colleagues Elect Him

State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff has mailed letters to the other 42 members of the 1959 Legislature expressing his desire to be elected chairman of the crucial Committee on Committees.

That important 13-man body appoints all members of other legislative committees.

Contacted at Scottsbluff, Carpenter told The Star he is "vitally interested in the complexion of other committees."

He pointed out that he wished to be named to the Revenue Committee which will handle tax bills evolving from investigations of the special Legislative Council tax committee of which he was chairman.

Carpenter does not wish to be chairman of that committee or of any other than the Committee on Committees, he said.

He noted that his letter asked that he be considered for the post if other legislators were not previously obligated.

Only reply (from letters which did not request an answer), he said, came from Sen. William Moulton of Omaha who wrote that he too was a candidate for the position.

Back Pains Found To Be Two Bullets

Philadelphia (AP)—For weeks Nicholas Bovoso had a bad hurt in his back. He had no idea what caused the pain. It got worse and he went to see Dr. Louis Chaess.

Examination disclosed that the 40-year-old Bovoso had two bullets in his back.

"I didn't even know I'd been shot," said the astonished patient.

By law, the police had to be informed. Anyway, Bovoso was vastly curious. How could such things be?

Bovoso told detectives he had neither heard nor felt bullets. He could think of nothing except that as he turned a corner near his home one night a while ago he felt for a moment as if someone had taken a quick poke at him from behind. No more than that. He saw no one, however, and kept moving. The pains came later.

Detectives said Bovoso was shot with a .32 bullet which left no trace on his clothing.

Coya And Andy Are Friends, She Tells Newsmen

Washington (UPI) — Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn) said after a day-long game of hide and seek with reporters that she and her husband, Andy, are "friends." But she refused to say whether she will heed his plea of "Coya, come home."

She told newsmen she had not yet decided whether she would return to Minnesota after her congressional term expires in January. In the meantime, she said, she intended to stay here at the post she lost to Republican Odin Langen in last month's elections.

She denied with some firmness, however, that she told a reporter "there is no reconciliation" between her and her husband, whose "Coya, come home" letter she blames for her defeat. She said what she actually said was:

"Andy and I are friends, but this is not a matter of reconciliation."

Curtis Asks For Goldwater Attack Probe In Arizona

Washington (AP)—A Senate probe will be made into circulation of anonymous handbills attacking Sen. Larry Goldwater, Republican, during his successful re-election campaign in Arizona.

Aides said Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) had ordered an investigator for the Senate Elections Subcommittee to Phoenix, Ariz., at Goldwater's request to make the inquiry.

The pamphlets depicted a smiling Joseph Stalin asking, "Why not vote for Goldwater."

November Land Bank Loans Top Peak Set In '34

Omaha (AP)—Federal Land Bank of Omaha loans for November were the second largest for November in 24 years, land bank President Thomas A. Maxwell Jr. reported Wednesday.

He said delinquencies have been running at the lowest rate in more than a quarter of a century.

Maxwell said this year's November total was $3,245,100 compared with $1,362,900 loaned in the same month last year—an increase of 138%.

Maxwell said the biggest percentage increase occurred in South Dakota, where the 11-month total of new loans was running 113% of the total for all 12 months of 1957.

The land bank president said it now appears that the total volume of loans outstanding in South Dakota will soon exceed the previous peak, reached in 1934.

Mild Rally Aids Stocks

New York (AP)—A mild late afternoon rally pushed the stock market higher Wednesday despite early easiness.

The rally got under way after the market had drifted lower for several hours without triggering any substantial liquidation. This followed Tuesday's pattern.

Prices started to move up when the Defense Department disclosed the United States will begin firing a series of new satellites this year. Stocks which traders felt would be directly related to this program were first to advance.

The rally was not strong and did not carry to the finish. Final prices were down from their highs, particularly in steels. They were sold in the last few minutes on news of lower steel scrap prices at Pittsburgh.

Aircrafts, chemicals, electronics and oils generally ended higher. Gains ran from fractions to about 2 points. Metals were definitely down with losses running to around 1 point. Drugs also declined while motors and rails were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed at $204.96, up 40 cents. The industrial component advanced 50 cents, rails 60 cents and utilities 10 cents. This was the 5th straight day the utility group has gained.

Volume totaled 3,460,000 shares, up slightly from 3,320,000 Tuesday. Trading was also a little more active on the American Stock Exchange, 1,810,000 shares compared with 1,570,000.

U.S. government bonds edged higher in light trading. This was the second day on the upside after closing with losses on 3 previous sessions. Corporates were mixed within a narrow range in dull transactions.

Trading declined to $6,000,000 par value on the big board from $6,340,000 Tuesday.

CHICAGO

The butcher hog market made a good price recovery Wednesday on a sharp drop in supply. The advance of 25 to 50 cents a hundredweight erased most of Tuesday's broad setback.

The offerings of 9,000 head were 3,000 less than expected and 7,000 under Tuesday's second highest run of the year. The peak run was 17,000 on Jan. 2.

Most of Wednesday's advance was on the No. 1 and No. 2 grades under 220 lbs which again were scarce. One very small lot of 220 lb No. 1s brought the $19.50 top while the mixed 1s and 2s in the 190-215 lb range sold at $19-19.25 and the 200-220 lb mixed 1-3 grades at $18.75-19. The mixed 2s and 3s in the same weight range moved at $18.25-18.75 and heavier kinds at $17-18.

Sows were steady to 25 cents lower with the decline on weights over 450 lbs. They cleared at $14.25-16.25.

The market for slaughter steers was steady to 25 cents higher on all offerings except a few loads over 1,400 lbs. The prime grade scaling 1,200-1,350 lbs sold at the $29 top and a few other loads at $28.75.

Buyers took most choice and prime under 1,250 lbs at $27-28.50 but paid $25.50-26.75 for weights over 1,350 lbs. The good grade brought $24-27.25.

Heifers and bulls were steady and vealers strong. Some mixed choice and prime heifers went at $28 and the good and choice at $25.50-27.90.

Bulls were $22-24.50 for utility and commercial and good vealers $29-32.

Slaughter lambs were weak to 50 cents lower on a slow sheep market. The good and choice wooled lambs were $19.50-21.50 and shorns $20.50-21. Ewes were steady at $6-7.50 for cull to choice grades.

Hogs: 9,000; 25-50 higher; No. 1-3, 190-220 lbs. 18.25-19.50; No. 2-3, 230-250 lbs. 17.50-18.00.

Colombia On Martial Law Status

Bogota, Colombia (UPI) — President Alberto Lleras Camargo and loyal Army units smashed a plot against his government. Former dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla was arrested as the ringleader and modified martial law was declared throughout the nation.

The Army virtually occupied Bogota, taking up positions at the capitol, the palace of the Cudinamarca state government and other strategic points throughout the city.

Lleras Camargo announced over a nationwide radio hookup the arrest of a number of plotters, including Rojas Pinilla, who was seized at his home with his son, Lt. Carlos Rojas Correa, and Rojas Correa's father-in-law, Gen. Jaime Polania Puyo who headed the 1,000-man Columbian force in the Korean war.

Rojas Pinilla, who was forced from the presidency nearly two years ago, was placed aboard a plane and flown to the port of Barranquuilla on the Caribbean, presumably to be deported.

Lleras Camargo said that under the modified martial law—or state of siege—emergency measures would be invoked including censorship of radio newscasts and prohibition of public meetings.

Fugitive Slayer Edwards Nabbed By Texas Sheriff

Carrizo Springs, Tex. (UPI) —Dimmit County Sheriff Tom Brady said he was holding for Georgia authorities convicted killer Spence Edwards, who was tripped up by a Texas highway patrolman and wild cactus country on a flight to the Mexican border.

The dark-haired 31-year-old Edwards told Sheriff Brady he was headed for the border city of Laredo on the Rio Grande and hoped to enter Mexico. He almost made it as he was only a few miles from the border when captured.

Edwards had been the object of a nationwide search since he walked off a prison work camp at Dalton, Ga., last Tuesday. He was serving a life term for the slaying a decade ago of a Georgia Federal Bureau of Investigation agent.

He was last seen at Birmingham, Ala. after a flight involving two kidnapings and the overpowering of one Tennessee policeman.
